REDS HANDED SHARP REBUKE BY BERLINERS

Anti-Russian Socialists Score Sweeping Victory in West-Sector Elections.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Dec. 6—Communism received a stinging rebuke yesterday from the citizens of blockaded Berlin. Nearly complete returns from the city election showed a sweeping victory for anti-Russian socialists.

The final results:

Social Democrats (Socialist)—858,100 (64.5 per cent).

Christian Democrats (conservative)—258,496 (19.4 per cent).

Liberal Democrats (conservative)—214,224 (16.1 per cent).

In all 1,586,090 Germans were eligible to vote in the constitutionally prescribed election in the three sectors, under American, British and French control. The Russians refused to conduct or permit voting in their sector. In voting the western Berliners defied a variety of threats from the Communists.

Anti-Communist leaders regarded every ballot a vote against Russian occupation policies.

Although the election ordinarily would have been merely a local contest between rival political parties, the east-west struggle magnified it into a barometer indicating support of Soviet or western policies.

"Vote for Freedom"

Western Berliners, blockaded 100 miles behind the iron curtain, went to the polls with the exhortation of their leaders to vote "for freedom and against communism."

The 84 per cent figure of eligible voters who cast ballots was doubly significant. Even if all non-voters were Communists—which is not likely—they could not have pulled more than 16 per cent of the total. In 1946 the Communists polled 16 per cent of the vote.

The Soviet military command had forbidden the election in its sector of Berlin. The Russians set up a "rump" communist government of their own in the city last week.

German Communists had refused to be on the ballot and threatened all who dared vote.

German leaders of all three anti-Soviet parties united in calling the election a plebiscite for freedom versus Kremlin-style dictatorship. The Russians called it an election for "chaos and famine."

The Social Democrats who demand socialization of Germany along the lines followed by the labor party in England, scored possibly the greatest victory in the 80-year-old history of their party.

Gain Absolute Majority

They emerged with an absolute majority which gives them working control of the next city and borough governments under western allied auspices.

The Socialists claimed the election showed at least half the Berliners who voted Communist in 1946 had gone over to the Social Democratic party.

The Soviet-controlled press of eastern Berlin reflected Russian chagrin at the huge election turnout.

"Mass arrests in the west" was the headline in a Communist trade union newspaper regarding a report that 70 Communists had been detained by police for attempting to stir trouble at polling stations.

"Shameless election comedy—great election scandle" was another headline.

RUSS CLAIM TERROR USED IN ELECTIONS

By The Associated Press

MOSCOW, Dec. 6—Tass charged today western Berlin elections were held yesterday in an atmosphere of military and police terror.

A Soviet news agency dispatch from Berlin said western sector streets were almost deserted and "one encountered everywhere only strengthened patrols of German and American military police."

At voting places, Tass declared, there were more than two to four voters encountered and authorities were using every means of intimidation and terror to compel the population to participate in the voting."

The Christmas Story

THE WAY was prepared for the coming of Jesus. The prophets of old had proclaimed it and the priests had ever told their flocks:

"Put aside your worldly ways and prepare your hearts for the coming of the Messiah.

Reports Greek Situation Bad

Guerrillas Still Strong Despite American Aid, Truman Reports.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6—President Truman said today the drive to crush Greece's Communist-backed guerrillas has bogged down.

He told congress the American-advised Greek army itself was partly to blame for failing to make a "determined effort" against the remaining rebels after a series of victories last summer.

As a result Mr. Truman said Greek morale has sagged and an earlier 'encouraging prospect' for eliminating the guerrillas failed to materialize despite the delivery of more than $170,000,000 worth of American arms and supplies.

A military stalemate has ensued which has prolonged the struggle," the Chief Executive said in a letter transmitting a new report to congress on the two-year, $625,000,000 Greek-Turkish aid program.

Turkish Situation Different

In Turkey, by contrast, the report declared that American aid is showing definite results. It said "significant progress" has been made toward increasing the fire power and efficiency of the Turkish army to enable it to continue to resist communist pressures, and added:

"The Turkish people have taken advantage of their opportunity. Turkey is today working hard to derive maximum benefit from United States supplies and training."

The report covered operations of the two aid programs through the three months ended Sept. 30. Its sober references to the situation in Greece contrasted with Mr. Truman's statement in the preceding quarterly report that the Greek aid enterprise was a "conspicuous success."

The latest report estimated some 22,000 guerillas were still trying to "spread ruin and demoralization in an attempt to prepare the way for ultimate Communist domination of Greece."

The number was put at around 15,000 when congress voted the first aid funds 18 months ago.

The Nativity

Beginning today on this page and continuing throughout the week, The Star presents The Christmas Story in six parts, excellently illustrated by the noted New York artist, Hal Foster.

We believe the real meaning of Christmas should prevail in the mind and heart at all times, particularly throughout the month of December. For this reason, The Star offers the rich and beautiful story earlier than usual—to refresh the spirit, to acknowledge with humility why one more Christmas approaches.

Busy as most of us may be in preparation, in our shopping activities and otherwise, there should be time for absorption of the religious significance of the occasion.

The Star is proud to be among the newspapers selected by King Features Syndicate, Inc., for publication of The Christmas Story.

1,200 Fill Epworth Church for 'Messiah'

Approximately 1,200 persons filled Epworth Methorist church last night to hear the presentation of a portion of the world famous oratorio, "The Messiah," by Handel by the Marion Civic Chorus of nearly 100 voices together with soloists and instrumental musicians. About 250 people were turned away from the church due to the over capacity crowd when was present. This was the seventh performance of the music written by Handel by the present chorus organization.

Guest conductor for the presentation was Professor Rexford Keller, head of the department of music of Ohio Wesleyan university at Delaware.

List of Soloists

Soloists interpreting the various recitatives and airs were Miss Florence McCracken of the Ohio State university school of music faculty, soprano, Mrs. Esther R. Hale, Marion Civic chorus president, contralto, Prof. Norman Staiger of the Ohio State music faculty, tenor, and Robert Miley of Marion, bass.

A string ensemble composed of a group from the Columbus Philharmonic orchestra played the prelude to "The Messiah" and accompaniments throughout the entire presentation. Members of the ensemble were George Hardesty and Dale Bechtel, violinists, John Funck, violist, and Richard Warzulip, cellist.

Miss Roseline Manzo was pianist and Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence, organist.

Chorus Included

The portion of the oratorio presented by the chorus included a number of recitatives and airs by the four soloists along with many chorus compositions, and was concluded with the ever famous "Hallelujah" chorus.

Rev. H. V. Faler, pastor of Oakland Evangelical United Brethren church, gave the invocation, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. D. H. Hochstetler, pastor of the First Evangelical United Brethren church.

Preceding last night's oratorio presentation, Mr. and Mrs. Warren J. Wise entertained the group of artists at a buffet supper at their home on East Church street. Mrs. Wise is an official member of the Marion Civic Chorus.

SMOG HITS TOWN AGAIN

CHINESE REDS CLAIM SUCHOW ARMY TRAPPED

Say Force of 110,000 Which Pulled Out To Rescue 12th Army Encircled.

By The Associated Press

NANKING, Dec. 6 The Chinese Communist radio reported tonight Red forces had completed "an air-tight encirclement" of the Nationalist former Suchow garrison in the developing battle for Nanking.

The garrison, comprising some 110,00 combat troops in the 16th, 13th and second army groups, abandoned Suchow last Wednesday in an effort to reach the trapped government 12th army group in the Suhsien sector, about 45 miles to the south.

If the Communist claim is true, it means that only the government troops on the new Hwai river defense line enjoy freedom of movement in the region. The line was set up recently 100 miles northeast of Nanking, but is manned by relatively inferior troops.

Says 20,000 Killed

The Red broadcast boasted that 20,000 government troops had been "annihilated," and added:

"If these troops refuse to surrender very soon, they will be entirely wiped out before long."

The Suchow garrison has been delayed in its southward march by Communists between 10 and 25 miles of the captured city. A government military spokesman said the three army groups veered westward, headed south again and were now about 35 miles southwest of Suchow.

But it was know that some 125,000 Communists under Gen. Chen Yi were massing across their party. The Red radio broadcast implied that other Communist forces had descended upon the Nationalist armies from the north and west.

The broadcast said those encircled also included civilian personnel of the Kuomintang (government) party and Suchow city officials.

Must Break Through

Foreign military observers said the Suchow troops—largest government force in all east China—must break through the Reds or face probably annihilation. Having destroyed huge supply depots in the evacuation of Suchow, the troops are carrying only limited supplies.

The battle probably will be decisive, in any event. The immediate future of Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government is regarded as hinging on developments between 100 and 200 miles northwest of Nanking.

Following the evacuation of Suchow last Wednesday, government forces spearheaded by the 16th and crack second army groups fanned south and southeast. The 13th army group protected their rear.

Their current maneuver brings them about 35 miles southwest of Suchow.

Almost directly to their south, seven Red columns have surrounded the 12th army group. Holding well-organized positions between the Kwei and Fei rivers, the 12th has been supplied by air drops from Nanking and Shanghai.

Grand Jury Given Red Spy Evidence

(Pictures on Page 10)

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 The house un-American activities committee is handing a grand jury today what it calls definite and shocking proof a Red spy network operated in the state department before the war.

At the request of the justice department, the committee sent one of its investigators, William A. Wheeler, to New York. His mission: to turn over copies of secret papers to a grand jury which has been investigating Communists and espionage for nearly a year and a half.

These are papers which the committee says a member of the Communist underground in the state department turned over to another member on the outside for relay to Russian agents.

The outside man was Whittaker Chambers, now a Time magazine editor who admits he was a courier for the Communist underground in Washington before he broke with the Reds in 1938.

Committee Has Copies

The committee is hanging on to another set of copies of the documents for use when it starts its own spy hearings going again tomorrow—but perhaps behind closed doors.

The prints were made from microfilms obtained by subpoena from Chambers last week. At the time, Chambers had them cached in a hollow pumpkin on his Maryland farm.

Chambers has said these particular documents never reached the Russians because he got them while he was in the process of splitting with the Reds.

Robert E. Stripling, chief investigator for the house committee, has said the hearings starting tomorrow will establish who fed the papers to Chambers from the state department.

The committee regards those hearings as so important that it enlisted the help of the Coast Guard and the Navy to bring one of its members back from a ship at sea.

Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) was enroute to Panama aboard the S.S. Panama. A Coast Guard plane flew from St. Petersburg, Fla., to a dramatic rendezvous at Aklins island, south of Jamaica.

Nixon transferred to the plane, and it flew the 475 miles to Miami. There he boarded a Navy transport for the hop to Washington.

Nixon, Stripling Meet

Immediately after his arrival last night Nixon went into a huddle with Stripling to go over the documents. His first reactions was that they are "so damnably important" it may not be possible to make them public.

Stripling already had shown the papers to Sumner Welles, former undersecretary of state to determine which might be "too hot" to bring into the open.

The result of the Stripling-Welles conference was not announced, but Nixon said Welles might be the first witness tomorrow—behind closed doors—and that present state department of-

ASSEMBLY IN SESSION TODAY

Gov. Herbert Calls Legislators Back To Act on Welfare Program.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 6—Ohio's 97th general assembly returned today for its third special session—a lame duck affair expected to take only a few hours.

Gov. Herbert, himself a "lame duck" Republican, said he would not allow the outgoing Republican dominated legislature to consider more than the two-point program he outlined in his call for the session:

1. An additional appropriation of $1,000,000 for a tuberculosis hospital in the proposed Ohio State university medical center, and,

2. An appropriation of $900,000 for an administration building at the nearly-completed Apple Creek state school for feebleminded.

Herbert classed both as emergency legislation on the grounds the funds are needed to keep present bids on construction work from expiring. If the bids expire, Herbert said, rising construction costs would probably make the new bids higher. The OSU bids expire Friday, those at Apple Creek five days later.

Only one thing might keep the

AUTO BACKED INTO PATH OF HEAVY TRUCK

Russell Sturgeon, 50, Dies of Injuries in Collision South of City.

One Marion man died early yesterday of injuries suffered in a car-truck crash south of Marion as 12 other Ohioans died violent deaths, eight of them traffic accidents over the weekend. Two Columbus residents injured in the fatal crash here.

Seven persons were hurt in seven traffic accidents near here over the weekend the state patrol reported while city police reported five minor traffic accidents here over the weekend, two involving hit skip drivers.

Father of Five Dies in Accident

A Marion man, father of five, was fatally injured and two Columbus persons were injured in a car-truck accident at 12:40 a. m. Sunday morning at the Welcome Inn, nine miles south of Marion on route 4.

Killed: Russel Sturgeon, 50, of 443 Girard avenue, a machinist at Marion Power Shovel Co.

Injured Carl Lee, 43, of Columbus and his wife Hazel, 30, with Sturgeon in the car.

State patrolmen said they had not determined who was driving the car in the fatal accident. The car was backing from the driveway in front of the Welcome Inn onto route 4. Approaching nearby was a large tractor trailer truck driven by Frank Schroeder, 40, of Ft. Thomas, Ky.

Tried To Miss Car

Patrolmen report Schroeder saw the Sturgeon car and tried to miss it but could not do so. The tractor of the truck crashed into the car. The high trailer careened across the road and finally overturned, spilling its contents over the highway. The truck was loaded with cases of dry gin.

Highway patrolmen and two ambulances were summoned to the scene by persons at the Inn. Sturgeon and the Lees were rushed to City hospital where Sturgeon died of his injuries at 5:30 a. m. Sunday. Condition of Mr. and Mrs. Lee was reported as "good" today by hospital attendants. Schroeder, the truck driver, escaped injury.

So badly damaged were both the tractor trailer and the car that the wreckage was not all removed from the area until 11 a. m. yesterday. Witnesses at the scene reported many patrons of the inn carried off bottles of gin which fell from cases in the overturned trailer.

State patrolmen today continued an intensive investigation into the accident and the circumstances surrounding it. The patrol said many questions about the accident, such as who was driving the car, remained unanswered at present. They said Sturgeon was found under the demolished car following the accident while the two Lees were still inside it. Both Mr. and Mrs. Lee were so badly shaken up by impact of the crash, they could not be questioned at the scene, patrolmen said.

Sturgeon was taken to City hospital in Smith's ambulance. Mr. and Mrs. Lee were taken to City hospital by Uncapher's ambulance.

Two Recovering

Carl Lee suffered head and neck injuries while his wife suffered injuries to her chest and four ribs. Full extent of their injuries was unknown today pending the results of analysis of X-ray picture taken yesterday, hospital attendants reported. Both were regarded as making a satisfactory recovery a hospital spokesman added.

Mr. Sturgeon was born Oct. 24, 1898, in Madison county to Ambrose Sturgeon and Dora Ann Dillon Sturgeon, the father a native of West Virginia and the mother of Plain City. The father survives and resides near Marysville. He was married Aug. 21, 1920 at Ostrander to Norma Pauline Rhoades. A resident of Marion ten years, he came here from Delaware. He was a member of the First Evangelical United Brethren church.

Surviving besides his widow and father are five sons, Garland E. Sturgeon and Kenneth L. Sturgeon, both of Dayton, Billy R. Sturgeon of 382 Chestnut street, Rex W. Sturgeon and Teddy R. Sturgeon, both of 443 Girard

U.S. Court Grants Hearing To Japs

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6 — The supreme court by a 5-4 vote today granted a hearing to two Japanese wartime officials convicted as war criminals and sentenced to be hanged.

The court's action was made known in an opinion by Justice Jackson. He said he had agreed with Justices Black, Douglas, Murphy and Rutledge that the two Japanese should have a high court hearing.

That meant a contrary view was held by Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Reed, Frankfurter, and Burton.

The appeals were filed on behalf of General Kenji Dohihara and Koki Hirota, former premier of Japan.

The appeals challenged legality of trials conducted by the international tribunal at Tokyo.

After the appeals were filed here last Monday, General MacArthur announced execution of the sentences given Dohihara and Hirota and of five other condemned Japanese warmakers would be deferred pending supreme court action. None of the five others filed appeals. Among them is wartime premier Hideki Tojo.

General MacArthur previously confirmed the sentences of death on the gallows given by the military tribunal to the top seven war criminals. He also confirmed prison sentences given 18 others, all but two of which were life sentences.

Dohihara was a Japanese undercover expert in China and Manchuria. Chinese called him "the bird of evil omen." Hirota was a career man who attended a pre-Pearl Harbor conference of former premiers at which war plans were made.

The supreme court appeals were filed by Attorneys William Logan, Jr., of New York City, and Davis P. Smith, of this city.

The high court also granted hearing on appeals filed by five other Japanese convicted of crimes against peace and given prison sentences.

Date for hearing was set for Dec. 16.

Says "Flaming Wheel" Was War Souvenir

By The United Press

DAYTON, Dec. 6—An Air Force spokesman at Wright-Patterson air base said today that the mysterious "flaming wheel" that hurtled out of the sky and crashed in a Bellefontaine, O., residential area was probably a war souvenir of some type.

The object crashed to earth Friday night amid a shower of flame and smoke. A police officer tried to pick the object up after it had fizzled out, but the remains disintegrated in his hands. Only a small number of metal pieces remained intact. These were sent to Wright-Patterson air base for examination.

An air material command spokesman at the base said the object "probably was a war souvenir" but that Air Force officials had not completed their investigation.

Speeds Airlift For War Brides

By The United Press

FRANKFURT, Dec. 6—The Air Force sped up its war bride airlift today in an effort to beat the Dec. 27 deadline when Uncle Sam will stop footing the transportation bill for America-bound brides of servicemen.

Because the war brides act expires Dec. 27 and there is a backlog of brides anxious to reach the states, four-engined transports have been assigned to the job of ferrying them from Munich to Westover Field Mass., every day.

Commercial planes also are participating.

COAST REOPENS BIG SHIPPING BUSINESS

By The Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 6—After 95 days of strike idleness the Pacific coast today reopened its biggest business—shipping.

The last obstacles to maritime peace were removed yesterday when the non-striking AFL Sailors Union of the Pacific received a written guarantee from shipowners the strike settlements with CIO unions would not invade its jurisdiction.

Hunt for 37 Lost on Plane

By The Associated Press

Rescue operations were under way in the Pacific today for an Air Force C-54 transport forced down at sea with 37 men aboard during a weekend marked by a series of plane crashes on three continents as well as the Pacific ocean.

Air disasters occurred in Germany, in China and in several states in this country.

The total known weekend death toll was 37.

From Johnston Island in the Pacific, word came today that a search plane had sighted survivors of the C-54 forced down yesterday. The search plane radioed "Sighted flares. Dropped boat. Boat landed about 100 yards from survivors. Don't know whether they saw it or not." The rescue plane pilot's fuel was running low, and he started back toward his tiny island base as other planes were ordered to the scene. He did not report how many survivors he could see.

In Shanghai, there was a death toll of ten in the crash of a Chinese Central air transport plane which burned at Kiangwan airport.

Patteson Adds to Record Of No Defeats in W. Va.

(One of a series of 22 articles on new governors chosen in the November election.)

• • •

By The Associated Press

MT HOPE, W. Va., Dec. 6—Okey L. Patteson entered his campaign for governor with a record of no defeats in a political contest.

A Democrat, he also brought to the campaign an intimate knowledge of government on municipal, county and state levels. He served as a member of the Mt. Hope city council for 12 years, as president of the Fayette county court, as sheriff of Fayette county and finally as executive assistant to Gov. Clarence Meadows.

Although the last post gave him valuable experience, it also gained vigorous criticism from Democratic primary opponents. They charged that Meadows was in effect trying to perpetuate himself in office by supporting his assistant for the nomination.

However, after a primary fought with an intensity peculiar to Democratic politics in West Virginia, Patteson gained the nomination by more than 61,000 votes over his nearest opponent, James Kay Thomas.

Patteson was born in Mingo county in 1898 but moved to Fayette county while he was young. He received his education in the Fayette public schools and at West Virginia Wesleyan college at Buchannon, where he received his A.B. degree.

Returning to Mt. Hope, he mixed county and municipal politics with a career as an automobile dealer and real estate broker.

Patteson is a member of the Methodist church, the Masonic lodge, Knights Templar, the Shrine, the Moose lodge, Lions International, the Chamber of Commerce, the American Legion and the Sons of the American Revolution.

He staged an energetic campaign that took him to nearly every corner of the state. He based his campaign principally on 16 years of what he described as a successful Democratic administration.

He particularly championed an extension of the farm-to-market road system, pronounced himself in favor of a revision of the tax system to raise more funds for municipalities and schools and advocated a state referendum to determine whether the state should give a bonus to World War II veterans.

Worker Who Rose To Presidency Of Steel Firm Dies

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 6 — H. Edgar Lewis, who started as a steel mill worker at the age of 17 and rose to the presidency of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp., died of pneumonia yesterday. He was 66.

Lewis, who resigned as president and board chairman of J. & L. in 1947, because of poor health, was the son of a Welsh tin mill roller. He came to the United States with his family at the age of 14 and three years later started work at the Duquesne, Pa., works of the Carnegie Steel Co.

He left Carnegie in 1906 to enter the employ of the Bethlehem Steel Co. where he became the protege of the late steel magnate Charles M. Schwab.

In 1930, Lewis left Bethlehem and later became chairman of the executive committee of the Jeffrey Mfg. Co., of Columbus, O.

He was elected chairman of the board of directors, a director and a member of the executive committee of Jones & Laughlin in 1936. Two years later he became president of the corporation.

Lewis played a prominent role in Republican affairs and at one time was boomed for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in Pennsylvania. He preferred, however, to remain out of public office.

He was a director of the Jeffrey Mfg. Co., British Jeffrey Diamond, Ltd., and a former director of Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co. and the Ohio Malleable Iron Co. and an honorary vice president of the American Iron and Steel Institute.

He is survived by his widow, Helen Sanders Lewis, their son, Edgar Sanders Lewis, and two children by a former marriage, James Edgar Lewis, of San Marino, Calif., and Emily Lewis Gillespie, Long Island, N. Y.

OPEN HOUSE HELD AT HUBER CO. PLANT

Employes and Families Go Through Factory.

The Huber Manufacturing Co. plant, 202 North Greene street was open yesterday from 1 to 5 p. m. to families of company employes.

More than 500 persons trooped through the various departments during the afternoon, Don A. Howard, company president reported.

Major purpose of the open house was to permit employes to take their families through the plant particularly the new foundry completed and placed in operation some time ago.

There was no program and employes were at liberty to walk about the plant at random during that period showing families and friends the operations in the various plant departments.

WEST ASKS RUSSIA TO DISOWN BERLIN RULE

By The Associated Press

PARIS, Dec. 6 — The Western Powers yesterday made a bid for Russia to disown the "rump" Communist government set up by the Soviets in Berlin and resume cooperation in a four-power administration.

Otherwise, they said, the chances of an agreement to end the deadlock in the blockaded former German capital will be considerably dimmed.

There was no hint of Russian agreement.

The western position was stated in a long memorandum sent by the United States, Britain and France to the committee of neutral experts set up by the UN security council to study the Berlin currency situation.

The three powers said grave new problems have arisen in Berlin because of what they said was interference on the part of the Russians with the normal working of Berlin's constitution.

They said these problems could be set aside even now "if the Soviet authorities were to disown the unconstitutional body created in the Soviet sector Nov. 30, 1948, and in conformity with the constitution permit elections to be held on a citywide basis."

The memorandum was handed to the committee of experts on Saturday night, before the Berlin election in which the citizens of the western sectors trooped to the polls in unexpectedly great numbers to rebuff Russian and German Communists.

Informed sources said it was merely a coincidence that the memorandum was delivered on the eve of the elections.

TRAFFIC IS TERRIFIC!

Local and long distance telephone traffic have reached an all time high today. The demand for new service is at an equally high level. We still cannot obtain much of the equipment we need to handle this tremendous traffic as well as the demand for telephone service. Yet we are installing more telephones and servicing more calls than ever before. Yes, traffic is terrific in every phase of telephone service today. And we will continue to keep our service expansion "terrific" as well.

Morrow County Woman Misses Radio Show Prize

Special to The Star

MT. GILEAD, Dec 6—A young Morrow county housewife missed a golden opportunity for fame and fortune Saturday night

Mrs. Erma Powers, wife of Kenneth Powers, who live four miles south of here, was called Saturday night by Ralph Edwards, master of ceremonies of "Truth or Consequences," NBC network giveaway show. Mrs Powers was asked to identify the voices of "Mr. and Mrs Hush," said to be a widely known American couple Mrs Powers identified the mystery couple, incorrectly, as General and Mrs. Jonathan Wainwright. Failure to give the right answer cost Mrs Powers the gift of prizes totaling $30,000. She will receive a consolation prize of a 48-piece set of sterling silver.

The Powers family live on a farm and have two children, a son and a daughter, aged 10 and five years.

Mrs. Powers was the third person called on the giveaway program Saturday night. Hers was rated the third best letter on the subject "Why Support the Mental Health Program"

Mrs. Powers told newsmen here today she had been swamped with phone calls from people all over the nation asking how her letter was written to be selected for one of those chosen for the almost lucky phone call.

While Mrs. Powers failed to hit the lucky jackpot a 17-year-old girl and an 83-year-old widow struck it rich on radio programs during the weekend, according to an Associated Press dispatch from New York.

Alice Heaney, 17, of Pawtucket, R. I., won prizes valued at $26,200 last night for correctly identifying a melody on ABC's "Stop the Music" show.

Called on the telephone by the network, she identified the tune as "Nancy Dawson". Miss Heaney told the network she is a clerk in a Pawtucket meat market

Mrs. Margaret Ash, 83, of Watertown, N. Y., won prizes valued at $24,000 Saturday night for naming Harold "Red" Grange, famed football star, as the "Phantom Voice" of the CBS "Sing It Again" program She also won when telephoned by the network.

Sunday Services Close Youth Meeting Here

Two services Sunday closed the annual conference of the Ohio Christian Youth council, youth department of the Ohio Council of Churches, which convened here over the weekend The conference gave opportunity to the Marion Christian Youth movement to play host to 300 young people and counselors from throughout the state Among the group were more than 20 Ohio college students from foreign lands including representatives of three races Sessions were at Epworth Methodist church.

Discussion groups on various phases of the conference theme, "The Creative Community," made up the daytime program Saturday A highlight of the conference was the banquet at the Masonic temple Saturday night, the OCYC met with the Epworth congregation in the Sunday morning worship service, and at the final service Sunday afternoon, a religious drama was presented by players from Ohio university at Athens. Among 19 discussion leaders were three from Marion, Miss Margaret Huffman of the Epworth staff, Rev. R. W Faulkner, and Rev. Eldred Johnston, and from Kenton, Rev. Roger Turrell.

Banquet Speaker

Rev. Dennis Savage, director of the Christian Youth Conference of North America was the banquet and Sunday morning speaker and assisted at discussion sessions. Dr. Roy Burkhart of Columbus was the other principal speaker of the conference.

"The Creative Community—the World," was the banquet subject. Rev. Savage declared in his emphasis on the spiritual significance of human life. "Man is a small universe, a flaming spirit in a world of darkness" His measure of this day he expressed in the thought that "We are living in the most exciting period since the Renaissance."

In a warning note, he declared that the day is coming soon when each individual shall be required to make answer to the question of whether or not he is a Christian, and implied a danger in the affirmitive answer, as in the days of the early church. "The creative community must be creating," he emphasized "If it is only created, it is past, and dead"

At the banquet, invocation was by Rev. J. B. Holloway. Wilham Jacobs of Columbus was toastmaster. Special music was by a quartet from Otterbein college at Westerville, composed of Robert "Bing" Crosby, Joe Albrecht, Roger McNeilly and James Eschbach.

Delegations whose homes are in several foreign countries were recognized by nations at the morning worship service Dr V F Busler, host pastor, asked the various groups to stand as he named their homelands, including Czechoslovakia, Denmark, Germany, China, Lebanon, Liberia, China-Malay peninsula, Switzerland, Norway, France, Nigeria, Greece and Spain He then requested the entire group of visitors to stand and welcomed them as participants in the Epworth worship hour Scripture was read by Richard Thomas, president of the Marion Christian Youth movement, host group to the conference.

The message by Rev. Savage was on "The Creative Community—the Church" Opening his discourse with the thought, "The Lord is in His Holy temple," He gave expression to the feeling that God's spirit is manifested in worship in the church in the beauty of its music, in its Scripture, and the fellowship together of those in His presence.

His description of the church he gave as a "fellowship of reconciliation of man to God through Christ," a "fellowship of the concerned," and further as "the body of Christ." Each individual must be born anew in Christ, he maintained, and the fruits of this experience of accepting Him are a sense of humility, loss of self centeredness, sympathy and outreach, a sensitive awareness of the needs of others, and "Christians become one body by sharing their various beliefs, not by giving them up"

At the close of the final service, following presentation of the play, "Dust of the Road," a "human cross" was formed on various levels of the choir loft by a group of youth council representatives including Richard Howard, Miss Virginia Howard and Miss Mary Queen, all of Marion, and Miss Dorothy Hafner, Gene Sharpe, and Miss Betty J. Nichols, dressed in choir robes. Before the pulpit was a silver cup representing the "Holy Grail" Organ music was by Miss Martha Rayne of Marion, and Miss Joanna Nimitz of Columbus sang

Delegates were entertained in Marion homes for overnight lodging, and Saturday and Sunday luncheons were served at First Evangelical and Reformed and Trinity Baptist churches.

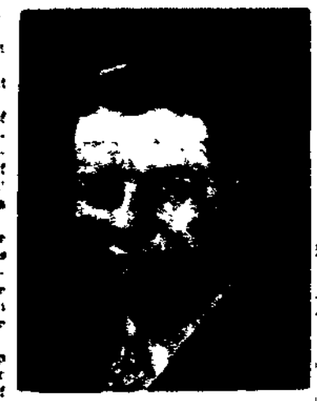
Authority on Conservation To Speak at Soil Meeting

A leading authority on soil conservation will be the principal speaker Wednesday night at the annual meeting of the Marion Soil Conservation District at Pleasant township school

He is Edgar Ollie Fink of Columbus, agricultural conservationist, author and executive secretary of the Friends of the Land His topic will deal with "Food - The Money of a Hungry World"

His talk will stress one of the major objectives of the Friends of the Land society, the awakening of the urban public to the realization that soil conservation is not a vital matter for the farmer alone

His viewpoints are summed up in the statement that the farmer produces the basic needs of man Production beyond the needs of his farm family is the surplus which makes life possible in the cities If there is no surplus the farmer may sit idle at long after the city man starves



EDGAR OLLIE FINK

It is only through conserving the soil which provides the surplus that cities can continue to exist Conservation is therefore of greater importance to those who live in the cities than it is to those who live on the farms

Mr Fink, a native of Nashport O., is a former members of the state education department's division of conservation education, with prior experience first as a teacher and later as principal and superintendent in Ohio schools He was graduated from Muskingum college in 1922 and took his masters degree and graduate work at Ohio State university He was director of the Ohio conservation laboratory 1940-44 He is author of several books including "The Teacher Looks at Conservation," "Conservation for Tomorrow" and co-author of "Buckeye Tales"

The meeting to be held at 8 p m is open to the public, the districts board of supervisors has announced, In addition to reports of the year's activities, the business before the meeting will include election of three supervisors.

This factor might delay adjournment for a few days. The Republican leadership is not expected to push matters to a vote until it has sufficient strength. This is no problem in the senate, where the

REPORTS ALL-TIME HIGH STEEL OUTPUT

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 4—An all-time high in steel production last week was reported today by the magazine Steel

The equivalent of 1,804,300 net tons of ingots and castings were produced, passing the previous all-time high of 1,791,700 tons made during the week of November 13," the magazine said.

No major price change was reported in the steel markets, steel reported.

Substantial carryovers of mill tonnage into the first quarter of 1949 were predicted by Steel.

"The 81st congress will probably be asked to extend the voluntary allocation law, and at the same time to grant the President mandatory powers in event the program breaks down, or in case of emergency," Steel said.

Scrap and pig iron supplies continued to improve although demands from the foundry trade are somewhat less pressing, Steel said.

"Some observers think a buyers' market in casts is definitely here with castings salesmen beating the bushes for business"

New production facilities and the modernization of old ones will lead to new peacetime production records, Steel said.

"Ingot production this year will total around 86,700,000 tons, about 1,000,000 tons less than the record wartime year of 1944. Since 1938, steelmaking capacity has been increased 17.5 per cent or 14,000,000 tons."

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

I KNEW that Katharine had thrown me a cue, and I picked it up immediately, for I saw an opportunity to repay Junior and Roderick in a small measure for their cheerfulness in accepting exile with Faith in order that Harry Underwood might have the chance to tell Dicky of what happened to the prisoner who had been taken away from my husband's studio.

"I agree with you," I told her "I do not need to call Winters, nor does Harry need to go with you. Junior and Roderick will be ample protection."

The faces of the boys were suddenly radiant, and I told myself that, after all, it was daylight the apartment was almost next door, and Katharine with Lillian had left it less than ten minutes before There was no need for any qualms

"I thought you'd see reason," my kinswoman said with a grin, "although I admit it was almost too much to hope Come along youngsters, before she changes her mind I'll give you a ring, Madge, when we're safely inside and have looked under the beds."

"Exit, laughing," Harry Underwood said, as the door closed behind them "Shall we go over and tackle old Dicky now?"

"Restrain your unseemly impatience!" his wife admonished him, and I knew that she had taken a quick look at what my father calls my "tell tale face"

"There'll be plenty of time after Katrina telephones," she went on "We'd only have to interrupt the jam session to answer the ring."

"Right you are," her husband agreed, and it was only a minute before the expected ring sounded I already was at the telephone, and felt my unreasoning fears banished at Katharine's voice.

"Not even a mouse under the bed," she said gaily. "I'll give you a ring when we are ready to start back, so you can throw open the door with a flourish."

"Also a fanfare of trumpets," I told her "Good-bye"

"I gather the safari reached its destination safely," Harry Underwood gibed, as I turned from the telephone

"Ef yoh evah could keep yoh fol mouf shet, hit would be a lot more comfortable around here," his wife admonished him, and my laughter punctuated my rising spirits, relieved by the assurance that the children were safe in Katharine's apartment. After Dicky's unexpected brush with death in his studio, I had a right to my "jitters" I told myself defensively, and also to the ease from fear which Katharine's message had given to me.

"What would you helpless females do for information and guidance?" her husband demanded. "But I'll forgive your impertinence if you'll persuade your pal, Madgie, to lead us to her suffering spouse I crave conversation with him."

"Come along now," I said starting for the door

But Lillian caught her husband's arm as he rose to follow me

"Rein in your ponies!" she told him "That man's been through things these last few hours Madge, you go in first, and see if he's ready to face the visiting firemen."

TOWNSHIP OFFICIALS ELECT NEW OFFICERS

Annual Meeting of Association Held at Pleasant School.

[illegible] of Grand [illegible] was elected [illegible] Marion county [illegible] trustees [illegible] annual meeting [illegible] engineer [illegible] at Pleasant school. [illegible] business sessions [illegible] to 125 township [illegible] officials and their [illegible] men of the Trinity Lutheran [illegible].

Election [illegible] with Mr. Hinaman [illegible] Howard McCurdy of [illegible] vice president and W. [illegible] Tobin of Marion committeeman. Walter W. Johnson, county engineer, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Speaker of the evening was Sergeant L. C. Smith, of the central office of the state highway patrol. He was introduced by Cecil R. Leavens former Marion county engineer, now serving as purchasing agent for the state highway department. Mr. Smith gave a short history of the patrol, and pointed out the difference in number and authority between the Ohio agency and those of neighboring states, particularly Pennsylvania which has more than four times the officers allowed by Ohio statute. He also stated that Ohio is having difficulty in finding suitable personel to maintain the authorized strength.

Sgt. Smith lauded communities, such as Marion, that are including a course of "automotive operation" in high school schedules. Mr. Smith showed sound film to illustrate a talk on why fatal highway accidents occur. His talk and illustration stressed the fact that many accidents are caused by "driver failure."

Bob Dowd of Kenton entertained during the social hour with a show of magic.

Short talks were given by county officials, Carl Lehner, William Risch, Luther Mitchell, Maurice Clements, Marion Hinklin, Calvin Oborn, Dr. Sifritt and sanitarian Fred Maxwell. Ray Reidenbaugh, commissioner elect, was introduced.

The next meeting will be in March under the sponsorship of Waldo, Prospect, Pleasant, Green Camp and Marion townships.

HUNT JAIL ESCAPEE

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Dec. 6—Sheriff's deputies today were searching for one of two short-term prisoners who escaped Summit county jail yesterday. Chief Deputy Ray Woodward identified the missing man as George Wilson, 36, of Barberton. Wilson and William Shafer, 26, yesterday bent back the bars from the window of their cell, fashioned a rope from blankets and went AWOL. Shafer was recaptured and returned within a few hours. Both men were in on nonsupport charges. Sheriff Robert L. Smith said a jail guard, Deputy Sheriff Andrew Krosnick, had been suspended pending an investigation.

POSIES INSTEAD OF TICKET

By The United Press

INDIANAPOLIS — Mrs. Helen Burroughs parked and saw several policemen scramble out of a squad car. She was all set to take a traffic sticker. Instead, the patrolmen presented her with a bouquet of roses and $5. They said it was part of a drive by the florists' association to promote safe driving.

LAMPS MADE BETTER

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH — Using rare krypton gas, Westinghouse Electric engineers have boosted the efficiency in fluorescent lamps by 17 per cent. A regular home-size 25-watt krypton-filled lamp was found to provide 50 per cent more light than a conventional 20-watt lamp filled with argon. The new lamp uses only 25 per cent more electricity and gives out five times as much light as an incandescent bulb of the same wattage.

SHEEP SHEARING CHAMP. Roland Burkhart (above), 36, of Pandora, O., clips fleece during the International Livestock Exposition sheep shearing contest in Chicago, which he won. It was Burkhart's third victory at the exposition. He scored 88.883 points of a possible 100 and had an average time of 2:25 minutes per animal on three sheep.

Death Cheats Jury Of Murder Trial

By The Associated Press

NORWALK, O., Dec. 6—The jury won't have to try William Bonnett, a 79-year-old retired railroader from Willard, O., for murdering his wife with a hammer.

Bonnett died last night in jail of a heart attack and Deputy Sheriff Lloyd Skinner said the excitement and strain of a first degree murder charges were too much for him.

The murder took place in Bonnett's tiny apartment Nov. 27. Bonnett admitted he killed her but said he did it in self defense during an argument. He said they had been quarreling for 20 years.

CIRCLE YULE PARTY

A Christmas party was held by the Silver Cross circle of King's Daughters Thursday night at the home of Mrs. Fred Cory of 840 South Prospect street. It was voted to give a Christmas basket to a needy family. Devotions were from Luke, the Christmas story, by Mrs. J. F. Ohmansiek. "Christmas Festival," piano duet, was by Mrs. W. E. Wiley and Mrs. R. C. Alexander. Mrs. Paul Blair read the president's message from the Silver Cross magazine, and Miss Suzanne Terzo, a guest, gave a Christmas story, "The Star." Other guests were Mrs. George Cunitz, Mrs. Alice Hill and Mrs. Fred Cory Jr. Assistant hostesses included Mrs. C. B. Emery, Mrs. B. H. Rice, Mrs. V. C. Kissell, Mrs. Relvie Sifritt, Mrs. George Stevenson, Miss Jessie Lindsey, and Mrs. R. G. Mayfield.

TOBACCO FIRM BUYS INTO ATOM PROGRAM

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 6—The American Tobacco Co. has invested $100,000 in the University of Chicago atomic research program, it was announced here.

Vincent Riggio, tobacco company president, said his company had become an industrial member of the university's institute of radiobiology and biophysics for the next five years. The charge for such membership is $20,000 a year.

The new participant in the research program brings to 16 the number of industrial organizations taking part in the industry-education research program at the university's institute for nuclear studies, institute of metals or institute of radiobiology and biophysics.

Under the plan to keep industry abreast of developements in atomic research, industrial members confer informally with scientists at the institutes and attend quarterly meetings at the university.

"Unscrambling" Huge Allied Army Starts; Ike Meets Russians

* * *

By DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER

28. Redeployment and Occupation.

UNDER the terms of the surrender document the heads of the German armed services were required to appear in Berlin on May 9 to sign a ratification in the Russian headquarters. The second ceremony was, as we understood it, to symbolize the unity of the Western Allies and the Soviets, to give notice to the Germans and to the world that the surrender was made to all, not merely to the Western Allies. For this reason we were directed to withhold news of the first signing until the second could be accomplished.

In order that American and British newsmen could have the full story of the Reims surrender, we invited a number to be present at the ceremony. In accepting the invitation they agreed to withhold publication until the story could be officially given out under the agreements among the Allies.

One American reporter published the story before the release hour, which infuriated other newsmen who kept faith. The incident created a considerable furor, but in the outcome no real harm was done, except to other publications.

The Western Allies were invited and expected to participate in the signing at Berlin, but I felt it inappropriate for me personally to go. The Germans had already appeared in the Allied Headquarters to accomplish their unconditional surrender and I thought the ratification in Berlin should be a Soviet affair. Consequently I designated my deputy, Air Chief Marshal Tedder, to represent me at that ceremony.

Some months later I saw in Moscow a movie film portraying the highlights of the Berlin ceremony. No mention was made in the film of the prior surrender at Reims.

We had no local victory celebrations of any kind, then or later. When Jodl signed we merely went to bed for some much-needed rest, to get up the next day and tackle the multitude of tasks that followed upon the cessation of hostilities.

* * *

THEREAFTER, however, all our work was done in the satisfying knowledge that the carnage in Europe had ended. Our problems were difficult but we were spared casualty lists.

The most intricate and pressing of our immediate problems was redeployment. On the day of the surrender there were, in the great Allied Force, more than 3,000,000 Americans under my command. This force included sixty-one United States division all except one of which had participated in actual battle.

Men with the longest battle service were to be assigned to occupation duty or sent home; others were to go on to the Pacific. Many of our divisions were veterans of eleven months' continuous fighting, while some, among them the 1st, 3d, 9th, 36th and 45th Infantry Divisions and the 82d Airborne, and 2d Armored Divisions, had entered the war in the Mediterranean campaign. The older ones had fought with only brief interruptions for two and a half years. The 34th Infantry and 1st Armored Divisions, still in the Mediterranean theater, had done likewise.

To make necessary adjustments required wholesale transfers from many of the veteran divisions and the filling up of vacancies by men with shorter battle service. At the same time we had to be extremely careful to preserve the efficiency of units; to have sent to the Pacific whole divisions of near recruits would have been senseless.

Our administrative machine in Europe had to be thrown into reverse. Bases, fields, depots, ports, roads, and railways were geared up to push men and supply forward into the heart of Germany. They had, figuratively, to face about and begin operating in the other direction.

* * *

SUPPLIES and munitions were scattered throughout western Europe and through much of Italy and northern Africa. These had to be collected, inventoried, packaged and shipped. Speed was the primary consideration.

So vast and urgent was this single undertaking that we set up a special headquarters with no other responsibility than to guide, supervise and expedite the movement. That headquarters was formally established on April 9, a full month before the German surrender.

With the end of hostilities the Western Allies had to begin making arrangements for breaking up the great combat force into its national elements. The governments had rejected my repeated recommendation that the Western Allies occupy their portion of Germany on a unified basis.

My plan was considered politically inexpedient, although I urged that, since occupation would be a residual task of the war and would require armies of the Western Allies for its accomplishment, there could be no reasonable objection to the maintenance, in western Germany, of the same Allied organization that had attained victory.

The question was, however, clearly a political one, and our governmental leaders believed that my plan would be subject to unfortunate misinterpretation by the Soviet Union.

Military government had quickly to be installed over the recently overrun sections of Germany. Add to this the never-ending volume of administrative detail incident to the control of the vast Allied Force in the west and it is easy to understand the remark of an overworked staff officer who said: "I always thought that when the Germans finally surrendered I would celebrate by going on a big binge. Now I'm taking aspirin every day—without the fun of looking back on the binges!"

* * *

WE REC. WORD from Washington that, because circumstances prevented American units in Europe from returning to the United States to appear in the traditional parades of victorious troops, General Marshall wanted me to pick representative officers and enlisted men for return in groups of some fifty each, for a short tour of our country. He felt that through these representative celebrations America would have a chance to pay tribute to her fighting men in Europe.

For every man the experience was inspiring, cordiality, and hospitality poured out upon those groups by the people of the United States were overpowering.

During the months succeeding V-E Day I went to various European capitals for similar celebrations, among them London, Paris, Brussels, The Hague, and Prague; other invitations I found it impossible to accept. My later visits to Moscow and Warsaw did not involve "victory celebrations."

By agreement on the political level, SHAEF went out of existence on July 14. To mark the occasion I sent a final message of thanks and good-by to the entire command.

For the first time in three years I ceased to be an Allied commander. Thenceforth my responsibilities were American only.

Preliminary agreements for an initial meeting of the Allied Council in Berlin were accomplished with difficulty. Complications included differences in language and laborious methods of intimate contacts between senior commanders, and the destruction in the city of Berlin which so stringently restricted accomodations. It was not until June 5 that we progressed far enough with all these tortuous negotiations to hold the first formal meeting of the Allied commanders in Berlin.

* * *

THE PURPOSE was merely to sign our basic proclamation, a document announcing the formation of the Council and assumption of joint responsibility for the administration of Germany. We thought that the papers in the case had been completely agreed upon before we went to Berlin, but when we reached there we discovered that there were questions which the Russians still considered unsettled.

The meeting was arranged for the middle of the afternoon and before it began I seized the opportunity to call at Marshal Zhukov's headquarters to present him with the Chief Commander grade of the Legion of Merit, awarded him by the American Government. I thought Marshal Zhukov an affable and soldierly-appearing individual.

When I got back to my own temporary quarters in Berlin I found that there was an unexpected delay in convening the meeting, at which Marshal Zhukov was to act as host. This was annoying, as I had to return to Frankfurt that evening. Through the long afternoon hours we waited, but the English-speaking liaison officer from Zhukov's headquarters could give us no explanation for the delay. Finally, late in the afternoon, I determined to force the issue.

I asked the liaison officer to inform Marshal Zhukov that, much to my regret, I should be forced to return to Frankfurt unless the meeting began within thirty minutes. However, just as the messenger was ready to depart word came that we were expected at the conference room, to which we all instantly repaired.

The marshal tendered an explanation for the delay, saying that he had been awaiting final Moscow instructions on an important point. The rest of us accepted the statement in good part and the Berlin Council got off to a start in an atmosphere of friendly cordiality.

* * *

IT THEN DEVELOPED that Marshal Zhukov had arranged an elaborate banquet for his guests, but I was not prepared to spend the night in Berlin. I therefore told Zhukov that I would have to go back to Frankfurt that evening, sufficiently early to land before dark.

He asked me to compromise by coming to the banquet hall for a toast and to hear the Red Army choir sing two songs. He promised me a speedy trip through the city to the airfield, saying he would go along himself to see that there was no delay.

Because of the marshal's hospitable gesture toward his allies I regretted my inability to stay. The singing of the Red Army chorus was remarkable, and the table was piled with Russian delicacies. Before I left Marshal Zhukov announced that he had just received a message from Moscow instructing him, with the approval of Generalissimo Stalin, to confer upon Field Marshal Montgomery and me the Russian Order of Victory, a Soviet decoration that had never previously been given to a foreigner. The marshal asked me when I should like to have the decoration presented and I invited him to visit my headquarters at Frankfurt for the ceremony.

I invited Zhukov to bring to the ceremony at Frankfurt a number of staff assistants and to stay as long as he pleased, with the assurance of a warm welcome. He replied that he would come on June 10 and would be accompanied by no more than ten staff officers, but could stay for the day only. Consequently I planned a state luncheon for him and his party.

* * *

JUST A FEW HOURS before his arrival I received a telegram saying that in addition to the ten staff officers he was bringing five officer bodyguards. An officer bodyguard was a functionary of whom I had never heard, and I was somewhat puzzled as to what to do with five at a luncheon.

We met Zhukov at the airport with a guard of honor and the United States Army Band, and we then, with an interpreter, got into my car for the trip back to headquarters. I promptly brought up the question of the proper place for officer bodyguards at a luncheon.

I told him that he could have them seated immediately around him, standing behind him, or at the far end of the table. When all this was interpreted to him he blurted out: "Please tell the general he can put them wherever he pleases. I brought them along because I was told to do so."

The luncheon at Frankfurt was a great success. It was a beautiful summer day and we first took our guests to a large gallery, open to the sky, where wines and pre-luncheon refreshments were served. For this interval we had arranged a parade of a large segment of our Air Force, on the assumption that Marshal Zhukov would consider it a compliment. From nearby fields we brought over hundreds of fighter planes, followed by bombers ranging in size from the lighter types on up to the heaviest equipment we possessed. In the bright sunlight it was a tremendous show and Zhukov seemed much impressed.

* * *

THE DECORATIONS presented to Montgomery and me were among the few I have seen that have great intrinsic rather than exclusively sentimental and symbolic value. Designed in the form of a star, each contains some eighty or ninety diamonds surrounding a group of synthetic rubies, in the center of which is a small enameled representation of the Kremlin.

On the part of Zhukov and his assistants there was discernible only an intense desire to be friendly and cooperative. Looking back on it, that day still seems to have held nothing but bright promise for the establishment of cordial and close relations with the Russians.

That promise, eventually lost in suspicion and recrimination, was never to be fulfilled. But so far as the friendly association between Marshal Zhukov and myself was concerned, it continued to grow until the moment I left Europe in November 1945. That friendship was a personal and individual thing and unfortunately was but representative of a general attitude.

* * *

General Eisenhower received an "astounding proposition" from President Truman at the Potsdam conference in July, 1945. In tomorrow's instalment of "Crusade in Europe" he describes this episode which has an important bearing on recent political developments. He also discusses his reaction to the atomic bomb as well as to the post-war problems with which the conference was primarily concerned.

CHESTER GRAHAM ELECTED BY UNION

Musicians Hold Farewell for Bert Myers; Name Officers.

Officers, headed by Chester Graham as president, were elected at the annual meeting of Marion Local No 531, musicians union, AFL, yesterday in the Central Labor union hall. Mr Graham succeeds Bertram D. Myers who expects to leave Marion in the near future. Mr Myers was presented an honorary life membership in the organization.

Elected with Mr. Graham were Robert McMahan, vice president, Mrs Fanny Benson, secretary-treasurer and Thomas Search, sergeant-at-arms. Named on the board of directors were Mr. McMahan, Mr Search, Jack McAdow, Ralph Craven and Robert Search.

Four new members were enenrolled. Mr Graham, C W. Davidson, Mrs. Elsie Socie and Mrs Benson were named to represent the local in the Central Labor union. During the business session the newly-elected officers were installed by Mr. Myers.

Mr. Myers has served as president of the local for the last two years and prior to that time was vice president of the organization for 15 years. He will be honored with a farewell party given by the members early in January. Mr. and Mrs. Myers plan to locate in Arizona.

Russia, the largest country in the world, occupies nearly half the total area of Europe and the whole northern portion of Asia.

ACCUSE GEM EXPERT—Former nationally known dealer in precious stones and an auctioneer on the Atlantic City boardwalk, Harold A. Brand stops to look at a paper as he leaves the federal building in Camden, N. J. Charged with concealing assets in a bankruptcy proceeding, he was released on $15,000 bail. Police said he disappeared a few days before his firm was declared bankrupt and went to Niagara Falls.

BOWLING

The Clasmc league, at the Palace Recreation alleys, took all the honors for bowling in Marion Thursday night. Cliff Hogan paced the loop for high single games with 244, but altogether there were 24 games of 200 or better turned in.

Lloyd Johnson led for three games with a score of 620. Bailey was tops in the Huber Bowling league with a single score of 224. Thompson and Edington each had 215 in the same league. In the Fraternal loop Kayatin registered games of 215 and 210 while Lavalley rolled 204. Haughs and Jevas each 203.

Greene bowled 184 to lead the Thursday Afternoon Ladies league for single games and Baldauf topped the loop for the series with 456.

Three - game individual and team totals and league standings follow.

High-Scoring Morral Next St. Mary Foe

Tomorrow night the St. Mary Irish will take to the road in quest of their second victory in two starts and the opponent is a tough Morral quintet. The Morral men hung up an impressive 71-25 win at Waldo last Friday night in their first Marion County league contest.

Led by the shooting of forward Dick Granlee the Morral men took a smaller but scrappy Waldo five by outscoring them in every period. Granlee sunk nine buckets and two free tosses for a total of 20, the night's high. His fellow forward Merl Hilborn wasn't far behind with seven baskets and two free ones for a total of 16. Guard Bob Cook was third with 14 points.

Marion Youth Held By Police in Columbus

By International News Service

COLUMBUS, Dec. 6 — A 20-year-old Marion youth was being held by Columbus police today charged with drunken driving and hit-run leaving the scene of an accident. The victim, 75-year-old A. J. Price, is in serious condition, with head injuries and possible fractures.

Noel Brown was arrested at his rooming house in Columbus 20 minutes after the accident last night.

ADMITS KILLING SON, STABBING 4 OTHERS

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6 — A young father was held on suspicion of murder today in the stomping and stabbing death of his baby son and the critical wounding of four other members of his family.

Raymond E. Jenson, 32, telephoned police last night and said "come and get me." They found him waiting in his parents' home.

Sheriff's Lieut. Vic England said Jenson went berserk Saturday during a quarrel with his estranged wife and her parents. England said he suddenly pulled out a knife and began stabbing right and left.

His wife, Helen, 31, was cut in the face and chest as were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bodner. Eighteen-month-old Raymond Jr. was trampled and stabbed to death by his father, England said. The officer added that the couple's six-week-old daughter, Jeneen, was picked from her crib and buried against the wall and then stabbed.

In a statement to police, Jenson said his actions resulted from a "burst of anger" and were not premeditated.

His statement related that he fled in a car which he later abandoned. He said he then walked all night. Once he got so hungry that he killed a chicken and ate it raw.

England said the knife was an ordinary pocket knife, brand new and sharp.

USC ENDS NOTRE DAME WIN STREAK. In the above photo end Ernie Tolman of Southern California takes a shovel pass from quarterback Jim Powers and gets away for a five-yard gain against Notre Dame in USC's surprising 14-14 tie. The Trojans, playing inspired ball, brought to an end the Irish 21-game win streak with the upset. Notre Dame players include tackle John Fallon (68), guard Bob Lally (67), guard Bill Fischer (72), and end Leon Hart (82). Trojans include tackle George Sabuco (78), and guard Paul McMurtry (60). Below: Trojan quarterback Dean Dill makes a few yards as Irish captain Bill Fischer tries to get past his blockers in the intersectional finale played before more than 100,000 spectators.

St. Mary Triumphs in Cage Opener, 31-26

Irish Score in Spurts Against Columbus St. Mary.

The St Mary Fighting Irish marked up a 31-26 victory over Columbus St. Mary in their initial encounter of the 1948-49 season Saturday night at Columbus.

The erratic-scoring Irish hit for 16 points in the first quarter, then fell off to five in the second and none in the third. In the meantime Columbus scoring steadily hooped eight points in each of the first two quarters and six and four points in the third and fourth quarters, respectively. The Ramblers pulled ahead of the Marion team at the end of the third period but Bill Merchant, Irish forward, scored three quick goals to ice the game for the locals

Marion, losing all of last year's starters, looked promising especially defensively in the first and fourth quarters. Columbus was somewhat hindered by the loss of three varsity members through ineligibility.

Use Man-to-Man Defense

Both teams employed a man-to-man type defense. Columbus alternated between a single and double pivot offense and while the Green and white, taking advantage of Bill Moloney's height, used a single pivot type.

Marion St. Mary jumped to a five point lead in the opening minutes of play and it took the Ramblers three minutes to record their first tally. Bill Merchant then connected for three baskets and Jim Cusick and Bill Moloney added another bucket apiece. Their tallies plus a previous two-pointer apiece by Bill Merchant and Jim Cusick and free throws by Merchant and Ed Moloney gave the Irish a first period total of 16. The Ramblers' eight points were scored one by Jake Mayer, two each by Dick Gianvito and Gene Demarest and three by Bob Griesenbach for a 16-8 score.

Maintain Advantage

The Capitol City men dunked eight again in the second frame while holding the Marionites to five. Gene Demarest led the Rambler scoring with five points and Dick Gianvito added three more. Marion St. Mary maintained a 21-16 advantage at halftime.

The Irish suffered a scoring relapse in the third while allowing Columbus six markers Bob Griesenbach and Gene Demarest swished three points apiece for the Ramblers. Marion trailed for the first time in the game by one point, 22-21, at the quarter's end. The lead changed hands twice in the first part of the final period and the score was knotted 25-25 at the official timeout. Marion took the ball in and Bill Merchant sunk a push shot. Then twice Merchant intercepted Columbus passes, dribbled the length of the floor and scored. Bob Griesenbach scored on a free toss for the last score in the game, the Irish winning, 31-26.

The Junior Irish dropped their tussle, 27-22. Tom Rizzo led the local scorers with five points and Quillan paced the Ramblers reserves with 11.

CITATION ACCLAIMED "HORSE OF YEAR"

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 6—To the surprise of no one who follows horse racing, Citation today was named "horse of the year" in the annual poll conducted by "Turf and Sports Digest," Baltimore racing publication.

The Calumet Comet, winning the top honor for his stable for the fifth time in 13 years, was adjudged the outstanding racer of 1948 by 161 of the 163 sports writers who participated in the poll. He drew the same number of first place votes in the balloting for the best three-year-old of the season.

Citation, which finished first in all but two of his starts in two seasons of pacing, was adjudged the outstanding two-year-old last season and drew eight votes for the horse of the year then. He recently drew the top vote in a similar poll of Daily Racing Form turf experts.

Previously, Whirlaway in 1941 and 1942, Twilight Tear in 1944 and Armed in 1947 had carried off "horses of the year" honors for Warren Wright's Calumet stable. The poll has been conducted since 1936 by Edgar Horn, editor of Turf and Sports Digest.

Citation received 485 out of a possible 489 in the three-year-old division and his speedy stablemate, Coaltown, placed second with 124 points. My Request, owned by Ben F. Whitaker, polled 121 points to beat out King Ranch's Better Self with 112.

In the horse of the year voting each writer named only one horse and there was no point scoring.

BOUDREAU RECOVERING

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec. 6 — Manager Lou Boudreau of the Cleveland Indians is recovering from a minor operation that removed a blood clot from his right side. The operation was performed last Monday, the Tribe's front office said today, in Boudreau's home town at Harvey, Ill., to clear up an injury he received in a collision with Gil Coan during a game with the Washington Senators Aug. 6.

PATTON'S 9.3 DASH ACCEPTED BY AAU

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec 6—It took a hurried special committee meeting to do it, but Mel Patton was credited today with a 9.3 seconds 100-yard dash, the world's fastest.

After first rejecting the application, the Amateur Athletic Union approved the Southern California speedster's mark as an American record yesterday shortly before closing its annual convention

It's the fastest time ever turned in for the 100 under acceptable conditions. Patton, the Olympic 200-meter champion, turned in the mark last May 15 at Fresno, Calif.

The AAU records committee approved seven new outdoor track and field records Saturday but when Patton's sprint was brought up the group said it didn't have sufficient evidence to support it.

Harold Berliner, an official of the Pacific association, read about this in the Sunday papers and got busy. He had the necessary information, but hadn't been called to the earlier session.

A special meeting of the records committee was called and the group was shown reports that of the three official timers two caught Patton in 9.3 and the other in 9.4. Also one of the alternate timers clicked the Southern Cal star in 9.3 while the other had 9.4.

The committee approved the record and the convention sanctioned it.

The convention reelected Mayor James A. Rhodes of Columbus, Ohio, and renamed all other officers. The 1949 convention was awarded to San Francisco, Dec 8-11.

HEADS CONFERENCE

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS Dec 6—Athletic director Don Peden of Ohio University is the new president of the Mid-American conference He was elected yesterday to succeed Dr W F Shors, who resigned after leaving Butler university for non-conference-member John Carroll. Dr W L. Howard of Butler was named vice president to succeed Peden.

Clarence Smith, 3 from Area Picked On Ohio's Northern All-Star Team

Clarence Smith, Marion Harding fullback, and three other backfield stars from high schools in the area were chosen Saturday by the Ohio High School Coaches association as members of the North team that will play the Southern All-Stars in the annual schoolboy classic next August.

Smith was designated as alternate fullback on North's team as was Walt Dutcher of Bucyrus. Jack Decker of Kenton was picked first team halfback and John Mason of Upper Sandusky alternate halfback.

Site for the annual Ohio high school football classic remained undecided, The Associated Press reported.

High school coaches met in Columbus during the weekend and named the players—but could not decide upon a place for the game and football clinic.

At Canton Two Years

The All-Star tilt has been held at Canton for the past two years, and next year's appeared set for Springfield until the Clark countians dropped out of the bidding.

The coaches, however, adopted a rotation system, sending the contest to the southwest district next summer, and then to the northwest, southeast and northeast areas the next three years

There were some indications Columbus, with the Junior Chamber of Commerce as sponsor, might take charge of the All-Star game and clinic next summer

The coaches, who previously had frowned upon playing on a collegiate stadium, voted 226 to 23 in favor of playing on a collegiate field. Columbus C. of C. officials indicated they might try to rent Ohio State university's stadium for the event, should it be brought here.

The coaches named Glenn (Tiger) Ellison of Middletown and Ray Shick of Newark as co-coaches of the Southern All-Stars, as they were tied in the voting Tommy Ness of Lakewood, former Wittenberg star, was a surprise winner of the Northern head coaching job.

Carl (Ducky) Schroeder, secretary of the association, asked that any city desiring the All-Star game get in touch with him at Massillon high school. Bids must be in by Dec. 18.

Only Browns' Title Game Left on Ohio Grid Card

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Dec 6—With Ohio's two bowl games in the record books football fans have only the Cleveland Browns championship playoff game to look forward to before the close of another gridiron season.

The unbeaten Brownies, who notched their 14th straight win and 17th in a row over two seasons by defeating the Brooklyn Dodgers 31 to 21 in Flatbush yesterday will play the eastern division winner for the All-America conference title here Dec. 19.

The title game was set back a week because of the playoff to determine the eastern division champion The Baltimore Colts threw the seaboard division race into a deadlock by whipping the Buffalo Bills 31 to 15 at Baltimore yesterday. The playoff will be in Baltimore next Sunday.

Both Victorious

Both Ohio teams emerged victorious in the two bowl games The University of Toledo Rockets downed a scrappy Oklahoma City university eleven 27 to 14 in the Glass bowl at Toledo Saturday, while John Carroll university's Blue Streaks edged Canisius college of Buffalo 14 to 13 here yesterday in the second annual Great Lakes bowl tussle.

The Browns entered the final period of their game with the Dodgers with a comfortable 31 to 7 lead, but they then had their pass defense torn thoroughly apart on some exceptional passing by Michigan's Bob Chappius.

The Dodger halfback passed for one touchdown and paved the way for another score with another aerial in the final period, making it necessary for coach Paul Brown to rush his regulars back into the game Chappius also passed for a touchdown in the third quarter

Uses Whole Team

Brown used all his healthy athletes, with only guards Bob Gaudio and Weldon Humble missing the battle. For the first time in several games, the Browns got by without a serious injury.

The triumph hiked the Browns' long unbeaten string to 23 games, including the title playoff with the New York Yankees a year ago.

Not since the Chicago Bears went unbeaten in 1942 has a major league eleven completed a regular campaign without a setback. The Chicagoans were whipped in their title game that year by Washington, 14 to 6.

Tickets for the conference championship playoff in Cleveland stadium Dec. 19 were placed on sale by the Browns' office today.

CAREY TO MEET SALEM

Special to The Star

CAREY, Dec. 6—The Carey Blue Devils, losers in Bluffton, 39-31, Friday night will meet Salem Tuesday night. Rusner and Berardnelli were high scorers for Carey with 11 and 10 points, respectively, in their loss to Bluffton.

PROTESTS BABE'S WILL. The New York Daily Mirror, in a copyright story, says that Mrs. Dorothy Helen Ruth Sullivan, 27, adopted daughter of the late Babe Ruth, has retained counsel to contest what she considers unfair provisions of Ruth's will. Ruth provided a $5,000 bequest for Mrs. Sullivan, with the bulk of his estate going to his widow, Clara.

Nation's Finest "Moral Victors" Open '49 Season

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 6—It may be rushing the 1949 college grid season to make a pointed announcement, but two of the nations' finest "moral victors" open the campaign in Memorial coliseum here next fall.

The two are Navy, which held vaunted Army to a 21-21 tie, and the Trojans of Southern California, who wound up in a 14-14 deadlock with a Notre Dame team that hadn't been tied or beaten in 21 straight games.

Today, following that spectacular battle in the coliseum Saturday before 100,571 delirious fans, the Irish head back to South Bend, and the Trojans and Trojan supporters continue to rehash the game.

Major argument, of course, centered around the interference penalty called on USC in the fading moments of the contest which advanced the Irish from the USC 12-yard line to the one.

Orian Landreth, the field judge who called it on Gene Beck when Bill Gay went into the end zone after one of Bobby Williams' throws, remained quiet. A conference rule prohibits officials from public statements.

Coach Jeff Cravath of USC was also silent but admitted he was anxious to see the films of the play. He told intimates that his telephone was kept hot through the weekend as friends called to protest the penalty.

Notre Dame, with little better than 30 seconds to go in the ball game, went for the touchdown in two line smashes, Steve Oracko tied it up with his point after—and that was the way it ended.

Frank Tripucka, Notre Dame's first string quarterback who was hurt on the last play of the first half, was due to remain in Good Samaritan hospital here.

MOST VALUABLE PLAYER

By The Associated Press

GRANVILLE, O., Dec 6—Denison university footballers voted Bill Wehr of Barnesville, center and Co-captain, as the most valuable player on the 1948 undefeated team. He received the Mike Gregory award at the annual appreciation dinner for players last night.

STEAMBOAT CAPTAIN DIES

By The Associated Press

COVINGTON, Ky., Dec. 6 — James T. Pell, Jr., a one-time steamboat pilot on the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, died yesterday. He was 80. Captain Pell was the son of James T. Pell, pilot of the "Natchez" in its historic race with the "Robert E. Lee."

HARDING-COLUMBUS GAME MOVED BACK

Presidents To Meet South Thursday Night.

The Harding cagers have a week's work cut out for them with a recent change in schedule moving their Columbus South contest back to Thursday night They take on Galion tomorrow night at the Edison gym, making it two home games in three days.

The schedule switch was made because the Pollak Steel Co. had rented the Edison auditorium and the nearness of the two rooms makes it impossible to have two activities going on at one time

A. C May, Harding principal, has announced the ticket arrangements for the small Edison floor To meet commitments with other schools 50 tickets will be sent to Galion and Columbus South. Of the remaining 250 total, 150 will be sold to students and 75 adults The adult tickets will be on sale at Markert and Lewis.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY

LOUIS (LOU) LITTLE, born Dec. 6, 1898, in Boston This famous Columbus football coach since 1930 started playing with the pugskin at Leominister High school, continued through Worcester Academy, the University of Pennsylvania and the AEF of World War I He had worked as an iceman at 16, a brakeman at 17 After coaching Georgetown, he built up the Columbus Lions to their formidable position in eastern football.

Minor Leagues Against Televising Night Games

By The United Press

COLUMBUS, Dec. 6—A minor league television investigating committee has come out against televising night baseball games, it was revealed today.

Chairman of the committee Frank J Shaughnessy, the president of the International league, in a statement in the annual report of the National Association of Baseball leagues, said that "it is my belief that ball clubs should not permit night games to be televised."

Shaughnessy was especially commissioned by the minor league ruling body, which includes 58 leagues, to make the investigation

He said the investigation showed that "televising afternoon games will help us, as it will interest the ladies and kids and bring baseball into the homes. But the night games' attendance will soon be hurt badly because televising these games is simply advising the fans seeking and having time for recreation to get it at home without cost."

Shaughnessy said the investigation revealed that fans in the suburban districts are staying home and watching the contests because they cannot get home from attending the games until one or two in the morning.

The report pointed out that professional football "has unquestionably been hurt by television," and that the International league cities of Newark, Jersey City and Baltimore, "all within television range of major league games, had lowest attendance in the league."

"It is my hope," he said, "that major league clubs will refuse to televise."

Claridon Enjoys Rest After Beating Meeker

The Claridon basketball squad is enjoying a whole week's rest after coming from behind to drop Meeker last Friday night, 50-42, in the first round of Marion County league games. This Friday the Claridon men meet Pleasant which has yet to play a loop contest.

It took two quarters Friday for the Claridon attack to begin rolling. Trailing by 13 points at halftime, the Claridon men suddenly began to find the hoop. They were still behind, 30-24, at the end of the third period but in the last quarter there was no stopping them. The Claridon team racked up 26 points—seven more than it needed to take the tussle.

Dickason, a forward, paced the Claridon assault with 18 points to tie Meeker center Yost. Claridon won the reserve game, 29-15.

DUQUESNE LOOKING FOR "NAME" COACH

By The United Press

PITTSBURGH, Dec 6 — Duquesne university sent out feelers today for a "name" football coach to succeed Kass Kovalcheck, who resigned under fire as the Dukes closed another dismal grid season.

Duquesne officials were after a nationally-known coach to lure not only standout players but give the school a financial shot-in-the-arm at the ticket window. It was no secret that Duquesne has lost heavily at the gate during the past two football seasons.

School officials have declined to comment on the situation. Kovalcheck's resignation, it was pointed out, hasn't even been accepted by the athletic committee. He resigned last Saturday as the committee reportedly was ready to meet to consider his discharge.

However, usually reliable sources said Duquesne would be willing to talk salary with Hugh Devore, the war-time Notre Dame coach whose three-year contract of St. Bonaventure ends this fall.

Others mentioned for the coaching job include Bob Snyder, coach of the professional Los Angeles Rams; Herb Kopf, one-time Manhattan college and Boston Yanks coach; Bill Earley, top assistant to Frank Leahy at Notre Dame, Steve Sinko, assistant to Buff Donelli of Boston university, and Bill Kearn, former West Virginia coach.

Michigan May Be Only 11 To Escape '48 with Perfect Mark

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Dec 6—Michigan might well be the only major college football team to escape the 1948 season with a perfect record

The Wolverines have run through their regular string—their second straight year without defeat or tie—and have no post-season commitments. Their mark is safe.

But the other mighties continue to stab majestic foes. A week ago it was Army, tied 21-21 by hapless Navy Saturday it was Notre Dame, stunned by a 14-14 draw with underdog Southern California.

The latest turn of events leaves only California and Clemson, besides Michigan, still with unspotted banners. Both go into Jan 1 bowl games against foes likely to be favored.

Play in Rests

The California Bears play rugged Northwestern in the Rose bowl at Pasadena Clemson meets Missouri, Big Seven conference runnerup, in the Gator bowl at Jacksonville

The Irish, victorious in 21 straight games, put on a pulsating last-minute finish to gain a deadlock

With Notre Dame behind 7-14, opportunist Bill Gay of the Irish returned a kickoff 97 yards to the Southern California 12 The South Benders moved from there to the one, with Emil Sitko bulling across. There were only 30 seconds left in the game when Steve Oracko kicked the vital extra point.

Clemson finished its regular campaign by humbling The Citadel, 20-0, for No. 10 in a row and clincher on the Southern conference championship

Two longtime Alabama feudists who were on the outs for 41 years finally got together again with Alabama routing Auburn, 55-0.

Fred Wendt scored six touchdowns as Texas Mines won over University of Hawaii in Honolulu, 49-6.

Bowl Results

Seven bowl games were written into the books, with these results:

Refrigerator bowl—Evansville defeated unbeaten, untied Missouri Valley, 13-7

Glass bowl—Toledo won a third time in the row, trouncing Oklahoma City, 27-14

Fish bowl—Hampton Institute defeated Wilberforce, 20-19

Mo-Kan bowl—Emporia Teachers defeated Southwest Missouri, 34-20

Orange Blossom bowl—Virginia Union topped Florida A. and M., 20-19.

Potato bowl—Santa Barbara whipped Willamette, 46-7.

Salt bowl—Northwestern Oklahoma shut out Trinidad, Colo., J.C., 34-0.

Sandi, Woodcock In 10-Rounder Today

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 6—Lee Savold, the ex-bartender from Minnesota, and Bruce Woodcock, the British heavyweight champion, fight a crucial 10 rounds tonight for a possible shot at Joe Louis and his world title.

At 9 a. m. (EST) they will weigh in at promoter Jack Solomons' gymnasium.

Seven hours later they will step into the ring in Harringay arena before a capacity crowd of 10,000

The University of Nebraska won its first football game, beating Omaha YMCA, 10 to 0, in 1890—and without a paid coach.

FIND GIRLS DEAD IN CAR

By The Associated Press

VERONIA, Ore., Dec. 6 — The bodies of two 16-year-old girls were found yesterday in the arms of two unconscious youths in a coupe filled with exhaust fumes. A funeral parlor employe found the asphyxiated girls and the two stricken youths. The couples were parked at a well known lovers lane near a graveyard. State Police Sgt. Holly Holcomb identified the girls as Bernadine King and Mary Lou Wolf, both of Veronia. Their companions, Allen Jurvakainen, 22, of Clatskanie, and Robert J. [illegible] early today at a Forest Philips, 21, of Mauger, were st[illegible] land hospital.

PRINCE GETS AIRING

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Dec. 6 — Princess Elizabeth's three-week- old son got his first taste of the outside world yesterday, but his mother stayed home. His nurse wheeled him in the palace garden for a half hour in the mild December day. The royal baby carriage was one his mother used 22 years ago.

News of Our Neighbors

Prospect

The Delta Circle of the Child Conservation League of Prospect met Nov. 23 at the high school with 17 members answering roll call. Florence Fischer and Lillian Stose were welcomed as new members. The topic, "Something New in Baby Feeding" was given by Pearl Burch. Mary Faye McMillan, home demonstration agent, gave a demonstration on "Finger Painting."

Crestline

F.N.B. club members and Mrs. Robert Gilchrist were guests of Mrs. Frank Yokubek Thursday. Bridge prizes were won by Mrs. F. W. Lockhart, Mrs. Gilchrist and Mrs. John Blancett. A Christmas dinner party was planned for Dec. 16.

• • •

By By club members met with Mrs. A. A. Remy Thursday with Mrs E. L. Renz as a guest. Bridge was played and prizes were won by Mrs. Harry White and Mrs. Remy.

• • •

Closing meeting of the year for the Ladies' Aid society was held in Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church Thursday. Officers for the new year were elected as follows: president, Mrs. L. E. Rombike; vice president, Mrs. Homer Schwert; secretary, Mrs. Josephine Schalip; treasurer, Mrs. William Lewis. Plans were made to send Christmas gifts to shutins and a basket to a needy family of the church. Carols were sung and a Christmas gift presented to the pastor's wife, Mrs. E. I. Van Scoy. Names were drawn for the new group and chairman will be elected later.

Galion

The annual Christmas party of the Current News club will be held in two weeks at the home of Mrs. H. C. Dye and Mrs. Harvey Sherer. It will be an evening meeting and gifts exchanged. This was planned when the club met Friday with Mrs. Eric Brooke. Mrs. Robert Larr gave a talk about the American Gypsies and Mrs. Gerald Bonnar sang two numbers.

• • •

When members of the Galion Child Welfare Circle met this week at the home of Mrs. Robert Quay, they spent part of the time in making garments for the younger girls at the Crawford County Children's home. Mrs. Gaylord Patterson was welcomed as a new member. Plans were made for the Christmas party and gift exchange Dec. 16 at the home of Mrs. W. E. Lott.

• • •

Arrangements were made to send a box of gifts to a Negro Mission in the south, a gift to a needy minister, and a sum of money to the Toledo Mission, when the Woman's Missionary society met at Peace Lutheran parish house recently. Mrs. Lloyd Rehl, Mrs. Paul Durtschi, Mrs. Philip E. Auer and Mrs. Fanny Schnarrenberger were appointed to help with the Mission Band work. The program was presented by Miss Emma Biebighauser, Mrs. Lloyd Harrison, Mrs. James Smith and Mrs. Ruth Thayer.

• • •

William J. Kunkel of Lake Galion was readmitted to General hospital, Mansfield, this week, to undergo medical treatment preceding surgery.

• • •

A daughter was born at City hospital Friday to Mr. and Mrs. William Beck of Crestline.

Carey

The American Legion Auxiliary recently elected the following officers to serve during 1949: president, Mrs. Robert Frederick; first vice president, Mrs. Seth Opp; second vice president, Mrs. Clayton Twining; secretary, Mrs. Edgar Keller; treasurer, Mrs. George Remlinger; chaplain, Mrs. J. T. Stombaugh; sergeant-at-arms, Mrs. Wallace Shaffer, historian, Mrs. L. L. Bland.

L. of C. in Upper Sandusky were Mrs. Luella Rall, president; Mrs. Esther Thiel, vice president; Mrs. Helen Cassel, recording secretary; Mrs. Lucille Rall, treasurer; Mrs. Hazel Rall, monitor; Mrs. Louise Boes, inner guard; Mrs. Louise Coffey, two year trustee, and Mrs. Patricia Clements, one year trustee. A new trustee, Mrs. Lillian Thiel, was elected for a three year term.

• • •

A petition has been filed in common pleas court by Mary Alice Shepherd against Carl W. Shepherd for divorce. The plaintiff charges the defendant with gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty.

• • •

A daughter was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Feeley of this city at Mercy hospital, Tiffin.

E.U.B. Pastor Speaks At Galion Hi-Y Banquet

Special to The Star

GALION—Good philosophy and "food" for thought were interspersed with witticisms which kept his audience in laughter by Rev. Paul Walter, pastor of Evangelical United Brethren church, guest speaker for the father and son banquet of the Hi-Y club of Galion High school. His subject was "Chip Off the Old Block" and he advised the "chips" to live their lives so that the family name and traditions may be carried on with honor.

The banquet held in the Masonic Temple was attended by 90 members and fathers. A turkey dinner was served by a committee of the Galion Parent-Teacher Association. Mayor Ralph Bucher greeted guests.

CARS HIT 22 DEER

By The Associated Press

WARREN, O. (Special)—Although the deer season doesn't open until Dec. 13, automobiles in Trumbull county have ragged 22 of the fleet-footed creatures in the last week. Total damage resulting from the collisions was estimated by County Game Protector William Minyoung at $5,000.

YES—I'M GLAD I MADE THAT 30-DAY TEST. CAMELS ARE SO MILD!
I'VE SMOKED CAMELS FOR YEARS. I KNOW THEY'RE MILD AND THEY TASTE GREAT!
PROVE CAMEL MILDNESS for Yourself!
Prove for yourself what throat specialists reported when 30-day smoking test revealed
NO THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!
CAMEL
TURKISH & DOMESTIC BLEND CIGARETTES
You'll be glad you made the 30-day Camel mildness test, too!
Hundreds of men and women, from coast to coast, recently made a similar 30-day test—smoking Camels exclusively for thirty days—an average of one to two packs a day. Their throats were examined each week by noted throat specialists. And after a total of 2470 examinations, these throat specialists reported not one single case of throat irritation due to smoking Camels!
So—smoke Camels and test them yourself in your own "T-Zone" (T for Taste and T for Throat). Let YOUR OWN TASTE tell you about the rich, full flavor of Camel's choice tobaccos. Let YOUR OWN THROAT tell you the story of Camel's cool, cool mildness. You'll discover something entirely new in milder, more flavorful smoking enjoyment.
Money-Back Guarantee!
Try Camels and test them as you smoke them. If, at any time, you are not convinced that Camels are the mildest cigarette you ever smoked, return the package with the unused Camels and we will refund its full purchase price, plus postage. (Signed) R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., Winston-Salem, N. C.
According to a Nationwide survey:
MORE DOCTORS SMOKE CAMELS THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE
Doctors smoke for pleasure, too! And when three leading independent research organizations asked 113,597 doctors what cigarette they smoked, the brand named most was Camel!

Loss of Fingers No Handicap to Hunter

By The United Press

WICHITA, Kan.—Jack Kimple likes to hunt.

The Wichita construction man lost the use of two fingers—his right index (trigger) finger and the one next to it when a shaper took off the top joints.

With his heavily bandaged fingers, Kimple went on a Colorado deer hunt.

"Using my ring finger to pull the trigger, I got two deer," the hunting enthusiast said "If the bandages hadn't slowed me up, I'd also have bagged a mountain lion that I saw."

With every wing beat birds empty heated air from their air sacs and replace it with cool new air.

TO SHOW UNDER SEA FILM AT CALEDONIA

PHOTOGRAPHING LIFE UNDER SEA

A sound color film dealing with life under the sea, "Voice of the Deep," one of a series being produced by the Moody Bible Institute in an effort to link science and religion, will be shown in Caledonia Tuesday. It will be shown at an assembly program at 2 p m at the Caledonia High school and then at 8 p m at a meeting at the Caledonia Methodist church. The latter meeting is open to the public.

In the accompanying picture, Dr Irwin A Moon, director of Moody Institute of Science who photographs the film is shown preparing to descend into the sea with his underwater camera by means of which he filmed the picture.

The basis for the film "Voice of the Deep" is the discovery that the sheer deep is not a void after all. It reveals that God have a definite message to man and these sounds have been recorded for the first time in this film.

A special Moody representative Rev A D Telder will be present to show the picture.

FOREMEN HEAR PROF. WRIGHT

Member of Denison University Faculty Speaks Before Shovel Co. Group.

Nearly a hundred members of the Marion Power Shovel Foremen's club, in their fourth meeting of the 1948-49 series Saturday night in the Marion club rooms of Hotel Harding spent one of the most enjoyable hours of entertainment which has been on their program for several years when they listened to Professor Edward A. Wright of Granville, O. Prof. Wright was presented by H. H. Douthitt, program chairman of the club.

Prof. Wright is head of the department of theater Arts at Denison university. He began his career at 14 when he toured the midwest as "The Boy Impersonator." He offered the Foremen's club a program of humor and impersonations and kept his audience roaring with laughter and calling for more of the same.

Portrayal of Elmer

Concluding his cleverly--arranged entertainment with excellent impersnations and a versatility which commanded intense interest, Prof. Wright left his audience rocking with laughter over his portrayed of "Elmer," winner of an Indiana hog-calling contest and his mannerisms while responding with a speech on the program of a bganquet given in his honor by his home-town community.

The Denison university faculty member holds B.A. and M.A. degrees from the University of Iowa. His interpretation of a bit of the art of acting, in which he shows an unusual technique, marked him as one of the most original and entertaining speakers and entertainers ever heard by the Marion organization.

Paul Bastian, manager of the Cambridge division plant of Marion Power Shovel Co., offered a program of transcriptions of the formal dedication ceremonies of the Cambridge manufacturing plant on Sept. 23.

Rule Change Proposed

Foremen's club members heard the reading of a proposed amendment to the club rules regarding membership eligibility, which will be acted upon at the January meeting.

H. L. Rogers, membership committee, presented names of new members of the club.

Dr. Carroll Ritchie of Marion will present a magic show as the entertainment program at the next meeting of the club on Saturday Jan. 8.

JANITOR ARRESTED FOR TWO MURDERS

By The Associated Press

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Dec. 6 — A janitor, arrested in a Santa Claus workshop, will be returned to Pennsylvania to face charges of murdering two elderly men.

Denver FBI Agent Russell P. Kramer reported the man, John W. Givens, 51, said he will not fight extradition.

He was arrested Saturday on a tip from Los Angeles by a man who saw Givens' photograph on a postoffice bulletin board. He has been working as a janitor for the Salvation Army and helping out on Christmas preparations.

Police Chief I. B. Bruce said Givens, an itinerant, admitted slaying Joseph Neugebauer, 72, and Matthew Magana, 70, farm hands working with him at the Mt. Gallitzin academy at Baden, Pa. Givens told Bruce the killings followed an argument over "who was boss."

Bruce said Givens was a "quiet, well behaved janitor" during the months since he came here from Sacramento, Calif. FBI agents said he had served terms in both San Quentin prison in California and in the Ohio state penitentiary for robbery.

Givens was quoted by Bruce as saying, "It's all over and I feel relieved."

Givens probably will be taken before U. S. District Judge J. Foster Symes in Denver for a removal hearing. An Erie, Pa., federal grand jury indicted him a year ago on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution.

Joseph Thornton, special agent in charge of the Pittsburgh FBI office, said Givens was arrested at Ukiah, Calif., in 1934, on a robbery charge. He was paroled from San Quentin prison after serving seven and a half years of a five years to life sentence.

Thornton said Givens was later arrested on robbery charges in Canton, O., and Pittsburgh. He was paroled Dec. 18, 1945, from the Ohio state penitentiary.

FINED ON CONDUCT CHARGE

Ike Murphy, 57, of 245 Jefferson street pleaded guilty in municipal court today to charges of having been drunk and disorderly at a North Main street tavern Saturday night. He was fined $25 and costs. Murphy was arrested by police at the tavern Saturday night and was released under $75 bond over the weekend to await his hearing today.

By DICK HOOPER

Did you know that scientists don't even know the right time? Capt. Guy Clark of the naval Observatory reports, "The rate of the earth's rotation in 1929 was faster than it had been in 1909. After 1929 the earth appeared to slow down again." Since time is figured on the basis of the earth's rotation, this throws our clocks all off, as compared to real time. As this fluctuation has been going on for centuries, today may be yesterday . . . or tomorrow. However, let's not get too excited until they can figure more than 24 hours in a day . . . and we can have time to do all the things we want to do.

Rita Labels Movie Role "Detrimental"

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 6 — Rita Hayworth denies a Columbia pictures statement that she refused to report for duty on her $248,000-a-year movie job.

The actress, who recently toured Mexico City and Havana with Aly Khan, her current romantic interest and son of the wealthy Aga Khan, yesterday issued this statement.

"A script was handed me last Thursday. The part to be portrayed by me was not adapted to me and would be detrimental to me. I said so and was suspended."

The studio had announced she refused to show up in Nogales, Ariz., for the film "Lona Hanson," and that production plans have been suspended.

The Not-So-Dead Past

WITH the Hiss-Chambers tiff sputtering again, two things about the evidence that government employes were engaged in treasonable activities during the thirties become more important than ever.

One is the fact that all disclosures which have alarmed the public deal with things that happened in the previous decade, but were brought to light only after the trials were cold.

The other is the fact that the house committee to investigate un-American activities, which has been the prime mover in bringing these things to light, has been and still is under attack. None of the disclosures ever would have been made if the committee's opposition had been able to carry out its plan for destroying both its records and its ability to function. Since much of the opposition has come from government officials, they are open to suspicion of trying to hide a skeleton in a closet—to bury the dead past and keep it buried.

But the past is not so dead as they hoped it would be. It stirs and quivers under the probe of those trying to learn what happened. And the public, needless to say, is more interested in its stirrings and quiverings than in the pious protestations of those who are still interested in keeping it buried. What do the gentlemen fear?

Take Before Retiring

THERE always are too many things to remember during the days just before Christmas. Some will be put off until it's too late to do anything about them, or forgotten entirely.

One thing that should neither be put off nor forgotten is Christmas Seals. More than 5,000,000,000 of these certificates of participation in the battle against tuberculosis have been delivered to the American people. Every seal that's paid for represents a contribution to the unending campaign to fight what formerly was one of the most dreaded scourges of mankind.

Tuberculosis has yielded to education and organized social effort to minimize its ravages. Most of the money to do this has come from the sale of Christmas Seals. They are good medicine, to be taken anytime before retiring on Christmas eve. Don't forget them.

The Other Fellow's Lobby

IN THE forthcoming investigation of congressional lobbies that President Truman is asking for and presumably will get, public education on this important subject may be advanced a notch or two.

This will happen if it is made clear that lobbies per se are all right; that it is only the other fellow's lobby that will bear looking into.

Thus, the agricultural lobby and the union labor lobby, two of the largest and most powerful, are likely to be regarded as blameless in any investigation conducted by the administration in power. But any lobby which looks after the interests of business enterprise is likely to be viewed with alarm. Veterans' lobbies, by the same token, will be viewed charitably, but lobbies representing investors will be regarded as highly questionable. If these comparisons are brought to light, the public will have a better grasp of the lobby issue in American politics.

The truth is that lobbies are a fundamental part of the machinery of government, based squarely on the constitutional decisions and are the voices of the minorities whose interests are the chief preoccupation of representative democracy. It is inevitable, under the circumstances, that they should be investigated at regular intervals, not because there is anything intrinsically wrong with them but because the ebb and flow of political tides makes it expedient to direct public attention to the other fellow's lobbies, to divert attention from the lobbies which happen to be on the right side; i.e., the side which has won the latest election.

Incidental Benefits

THE main argument for the proposed revision of the electoral college—the Lodge-Gossett plan—is that no president thereafter could be elected without a majority of the popular votes. As it is now, a minority of voters can elect a president and have done so three times—in 1876, 1888 and 1916.

But the incidental benefits of making electoral votes reflect the popular sentiment in an election are even more appealing in some respects than the principal claim. The Lodge-Gossett plan would neutralize the effect of city bosses; a national election no longer could be rigged by lining up machine votes in as few as eight large cities.

It would stimulate the development of a two-party system in the southern states now counted as safe for the Democrats no matter who happens to be their presidential candidate. It would take most of the zip out of pressure blocs which have learned how to use the electoral college to bludgeon their way into political favor.

For these reasons the Lodge-Gossett plan will be opposed bitterly by Democrats who have been using the urban bossed vote, the southern one-party system and the pressure blocs to perpetuate themselves in power. But it will continue to be one of the most constructive ideas for improving presidential elections ever proposed in congress.

The Menace in China

By Mark Sullivan

Conquest Seen as Major Goal of Communists

WASHINGTON

BECAUSE of the Communist advance in China and the presence in Washington of the wife of the head of the Chinese government, Madame Chiang Kai-shek, we are, it seems, getting a measure awareness of what the fall of China would mean to us. But the public awareness is short of the tragedy of the facts. And as the tragedy confronts us there is a disturbing development, a tendency to minimize it, to say in effect, "Oh, well, maybe it won't be so bad after all."

For a true estimate, go back to what was recognized before the tragedy became imminent. Thus was that the fall of China to Communism and Russia would be a concrete and extreme calamity to us, both as an individual nation and in our role of spearhead of the free nations resisting the Russian attempt to Communize the world. A statement of this is in a recent book, "China, the Land and the People," by Gerald F. Winfield.

"Our stake in Asia has now become the matter of the survival of our democracy, even our very existence as a free people. The outcome of China's conflict may determine the fate of the human race in the second half of the twentieth century.

• • •

JUDGMENT corresponding to that has been held by official American authorities. The head of our Air Forces in China during the recent war, Major General (ret.) Claire Chennault, writing about the strategy of the Communist leaders, said: "The domination of China is one of (the) strategical essentials necessary... before they can feel safe in making war on the world." A report of the house committee on foreign affairs said that success by the Communists in taking over China would result in "one Soviet-dominated world." There were many expressions of corresponding judgments of what would follow, some going into details, including Communist domination of all eastern and southeastern Asia, thereby making our position as to the Philippines and Japan perhaps untenable. About the over-all consequences of Communist victory in China, there was verification from the head of the Communist party in America, William Z. Foster, who in 1945 said: "The war in China is the key to all problems of the international front..."

• • •

THESE "IFS" are now on the verge of becoming "is." In this imminence arises a disquieting kind of optimism, accompanied by self-excuse for not doing so. China the amount of aid the government needs and pleads for. Much talk goes out of Washington to the effect that the present government of China is inefficient and corrupt. But it is the same government, under the same head that China had during the war, in the presence and atmosphere of which we approved it and gave it immense aid. We shrink from facing the fact that by our aid to China during the war we gave it reason to expect the aid it now asks for. And the fact that we implicitly promised aid, in the broad general statement President Truman made in March, 1947, when we went to the rescue of Greece: "... it must be the policy of the United States to support free peoples who are resisting attempted subjugation by armed minorities or by outside pressure."

The true reason we are not likely to give China the amount of aid its government pleads for is that we are faced by a dilemma. We have committed ourselves to giving immense aid, economic and military, to the countries of Western Europe against the prong of Communist advance on that continent. To add to this commitment one of corresponding magnitude to resist the Communist advance on the Asiatic continent would be to spread our strength dangerously thin.

• • •

PERHAPS the choice which circumstances force upon us is tenable. In Europe the stake we defend is a group of countries which with us make up the greatest area of industrial and economic strength in the world. In China the stake is 500 million people, not economically or industrially advanced. Probably the stake in Europe is at present the one most imperatively calling for all-out defense. In any event we are committed to it. Economic aid to Western Europe is already under way, and we are in process, through the planned North Atlantic alliance, of committing ourselves, with Canada and some 10 Western European countries, to military defense of a vast area stretching from the border where Northern Norway faces Russia to the border where Alaska faces Russia across the Bering Sea.

Nevertheless, loss of China, or of Chinese confidence in us, would recall uncomfortably a judgment uttered nearly 50 years ago by John Hay, then our secretary of state: "Whoever understands that mighty empire... has a key to (world) politics for the next 500 years."

Liberty or License?

By Frank Tripp

BLOOMFIELD College and Seminary (co-educational) at Bloomfield, New Jersey, sought a professor of psychology.

It had ideas of the kind of psychologist it wanted, so made a clean statement of a few things to which it did not wish to expose its students.

Dr. Frederick Schweitzer, president of Bloomfield, didn't confine his dislikes to leprosy, smallpox and halitosis. He included communism.

In the bulletin which listed qualifications and sought candidates for the job, Qualification No. 2 read as follows:

"(2) Definite, positive loyalty to American political ideals and traditions. Reds, pinks, near-punks and 'fellow travelers' will not fit into the policy of Bloomfield which, while aggressively committed to criticism and correction of the abuses and inequalities of our present economic order, is fundamentally committed to the American system as against communism or socialism."

• • •

IN DR. SCHWEITZER'S mail promptly came a letter from Harvard university's Psychological Laboratories, Memorial Hall, Cambridge 38, Massachusetts. It was signed by Edwin B. Newman, Secretary to the Department and it read:

"Dear President Schweitzer:

"I don't believe that we have any recent Ph. D's who would be candidates for your position.

"I should like to express my astonishment on reading your qualification (2). It has long been a canon of academic freedom that a man's political opinions had no bearing on his ability to obtain and hold an academic appointment. I think it is even more basically a principle of our American democracy that every citizen should enjoy freedom of speech and freedom of thought. I find it very difficult to understand how you can be engaged in an aggressive campaign to reorganize and strengthen Bloomfield College when you so blatantly propose to violate the principles on which both our democracy and our educational system are founded.

"I realize that you are doubtless aware of the issue which I have raised. I have no hope that my protest will serve to substantially alter the basis on which your judgments will be made. I do feel, however, that your letter should not go unchallenged. I think that I speak for a considerable portion of the academic community in this matter."

• • •

THEREUPON Dr. Schweitzer caused a mailing piece to be printed, under the title, "Should America's College Professors Be Pro-American?" The conclusion of his answer in the affirmative says:

"Bloomfield College feels that 'academic liberty' becomes 'academic license' when it is used to provide a platform from which to dispense a doctrine which in itself has no place for academic liberty.

"We intend no rebuke to the Harvard administrator, who is personally a fine American. But we do strongly urge that time and bitter experience have pointed to the fallacy in his reasoning."

Likewise, intending no rebuke, I just thought maybe you'd enjoy inspecting these contrasting views among educators. You might even have a point of view yourself—specially if you have children in school.

Checking Tax Returns

From the New York Sun

AFTER New Year's Day the citizen summoned to the office of the collector of internal revenue, together with his books and papers, need not break out into a cold sweat of fear. The Bureau of Internal Revenue proposes to check tax returns next year by taking at random a number that will represent various occupations, localities and income brackets. The next formula for selection has not been disclosed, but presumably the number of returns arbitrarily chosen for checking will not be large. The bureau apparently believes that a small number chosen in this fashion will be fairly representative of the millions of returns filed.

If this sort of check works as it now is expected to work, it will show whether tax evasion is disproportionate in any part of the country in any occupational group or groups, or in any income tax bracket or brackets. The tax return of the most conscientious citizen in the country might be selected. It might show superficial evidence that the taxpayer had paid every cent owed to Uncle Sam. But it would have to be substantiated from the taxpayer's records.

This, of course, is a thing apart from the mere mathematical checking of a return. If the Bureau of Internal Revenue can make its sampling of the population an accurate one, it will get a pretty good notion of where its checking might be concentrated and of how it might be improved. But the sample would have to be fairly large to produce convincing results; it seems likely that one inevitable result will be that more tax returns will be checked than ever before. But when a check is made in this random fashion, the honest taxpayer can produce his records without a faster pulse beat. It is one thing to be the nominee of a known system, even if it operates at random; it is another thing to be called to book by an obscure destiny, operating blindly.

From News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO

It was Tuesday, Dec. 6, 1938.

Boyhood friends of John Nance Garner, who was born in a shanty and rose from a frontier lawyer to vice president, rounded up the folks of northeast Texas for a rally to launch the Garner-for-President movement throughout the nation.

Dr. Warren C. Sawyer was elected president of the Marion Academy of Medicine at a meeting held at the City hospital.

Mrs. Eliza Savis Claybourne, said to be about 85 years old and born in slavery, died at her home on North Main street. She was born on the Virginia plantation where her parents were slaves.

An audience of more than 800 attended the first concert of the season given by the Marion Civic orchestra in the First Presbyterian church.

Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor of St. Mary Catholic church, was host to a group of church dignitaries when the Clergy Relief Union of the archdiocese of Cincinnati, of which he was a member, met for a business session.

Mrs. Mollie Harman was elected most excellent chief at a meeting of Marion Temple No 381, Pythian Sisters.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

It was Thursday, Dec. 6, 1928.

Claims for sheep killed and injured by dogs since Oct. 3 in Marion county amounted to $1,706, and because of the unusually high total during the entire year it was thought that in 1929 it would be necessary for the commissioners to increase the price of dog tags.

Abner Coleman of Morrow county was obtaining patents on a new style mail box for rural routes designed to prevent the cover from freezing tight in the winter and also arranged so as to take care of parcel post packages.

Mrs. M. J. English of West Church street was in Cleveland visiting her daughter, Miss Katherine English.

Miss Juanita Miller of North State street went to Cleveland to attend a concert given by Mischa Elman and Fritz Kreisler.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce decided upon improvements for parks and playgrounds as one of its major activities for the coming year. Ray A. Lehner, Charles Weysall, Carroll Kerr and Clarence Boyd were elected as new members of the board of directors.

Mrs. Amy Crawford Granger, 31, died at her home on North Greenwood street.

Mrs. Mathew Grader was hostess to the Superba club at her home on Silver street.

Better Time for Checkup

By George E. Sokolsky

THE doctors have developed quite a trade in getting us to let them give us a "check-up." They look at your lungs through a fluoroscope; they take your blood pressure. They look at your teeth and ask how many cigars you smoke. When they are through, they tell you that if you do as they say, particularly about your weight, you will gain 10 years of life.

No doctor will sign a contract to that effect. You have to take his word for it. He will not even tell you the date from which you begin counting 10. Meanwhile, you pay for a lot of machinery including an electrocardiogram, and then you are told that you might drop dead the minute after the doctor told you that the cardiogram told him that you are OK.

• • •

STILL AND ALL, a "check-up" is a good thing. You may learn that you are a borderline diabetic, which gives you a yen for pies and pastries, or that you should stop smoking, which makes you so tobacco-conscious that you smoke twice as much. A friend of mine went on the water-wagon after a "check-up" and therefore would drink no hard liquor except brandy in coffee. He finally drank so much spiked coffee that they gave him Scotch whiskey to dilate his arteries. On the other hand, many a life has been saved by a doctor discovering something that has to be cut off or out before it becomes a menace.

When a man reaches 68, the age of General Marshall, he should take a "check-up" twice a year to discover if anything has unduly hardened. Men of that age are particularly concerned about hardening of the arteries—arteriosclerosis, they call it—but there are other kinds of hardenings that are just as bad or even worse.

Some people go down to Duke university and eat rice and apricots when they get that way. The theory is that although the Chinese suffer from about everything else, they don't go in for hardening of the arteries. Therefore, some American researchers decided that if a man goes on this rice and fruit diet, he will increase his longevity. A friend of mine died of this diet, but the doctors only admit that he died.

• • •

NOW I DO NOT know what hardness General Marshall was checked against nor why the great soldier could not postpone it for an hour or two to meet the little Chinese lady who flew all the way from Shanghai to Washington to talk to him. It might be hardening of the heart. Being neither a physician nor a psychologist, but having taken lots of "check-ups" to atone for my sins, I know that there never was one that could not be put off a few hours to prevent gossip—gossip-mongers and liars from reaching and trafficking in false conclusions.

So General Marshall switched himself to the Walter Reed hospital, which statesmen are finding a increasingly convenient hideout. I hope the doctors do him no harm there and that nothing is found that will interfere with his career. Certainly the doctor will not ask him any embarrassing questions as, for instance, why the United States made a present of Manchuria to Soviet Russia after we had fought a war to free it from the Japanese. It isn't fair to ask a general a question that he cannot answer.

• • •

IT'S A PITY the general's not waiting to say, "hello!" to little Madame Chiang Kai-shek. He could have gone to the hospital from the airport and then he could have had his picture taken with her. There is something alien to American gentility in all this that the general must regret that he did it, particularly after the lady visited him in the hospital.

There is a saying in China that a wise general always runs away to live to fight another day. Nobody wants to believe that about General Marshall, who, however we may disagree on issues, is one of America's truly notable figures. No one can wish him ill; no one wants him to "lose face."

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Disorder That Tends To Be Hereditary.

There are certain traits that run in families. Likewise, there are certain disorders that run in families and hemophilia is one of them. This is a disorder, the exact cause of which is not known, in which the blood does not clot as rapidly as it should. Occurring usually in the male, the tendency to hemophilia is transmitted by the female.

New methods, described below, have been found to aid the clotting of the blood in patients with hemophilia so that operations may be safely performed on such patients.

It is important that persons with this disease be trained to avoid injury as much as possible, and still engage in many of the customary physical activities.

One of the best ways to check the bleeding is to inject into a vein, fresh whole blood or blood plasma, that is, the fluid part of the blood. What is known as frozen plasma may be used, but it must be thawed rapidly before being injected.

The exact treatment to be employed will depend upon the severity of the condition. If a great deal of blood has been lost, whole blood will serve two purposes. It will aid in the blood clotting and will replace the blood which has been lost. If the condition is only moderately severe, the blood plasma may be employed. It may maintain normal blood clotting for a period of about twenty-four hours.

If the patient with hemophilia must have an operation, measures to control the blood clotting, such as blood transfusions, should be carried out before the operation is performed and the effects noted for two or three days.

After the operation, the patient should be carefully watched for from two to ten days, depending on the surgical procedure performed. The clotting time of the blood is measured three times a day, by timing the clotting, and, if necessary, an additional injection of whole blood or blood plasma is given.

Occasionally, such substances as fibrin or thrombin should be applied locally to the wound in order to prevent bleeding. In a certain few cases, several injections of whole blood will not control the condition. In such instances, it may be necessary to replace most of the blood by injections of fresh, whole blood.

In some cases of hemophilia bleeding into the joints occurs, and this may produce almost total disability. If the clotting time of the blood is shortened by the injection of whole blood into a vein, the blood in the joint may be drawn out of the joint by using a syringe and needle then heat and similar measures are used to benefit the joint condition.

Answer: There is some evidence indicating that rheumatic fever runs in families. However, the fact that you have this condition does not mean that your children would also develop it.

Why Hudson Beauty is more than "skin-deep"

The modern design for '49

The New Hudson—the first and only car you step down into—achieves true streamlining and today's lowest silhouette as the natural result of a basically new design principle available in no other type of automobile!

Every time your eyes linger on a New Hudson, you are admiring beauty as genuine as nature at her glorious best!

For this stunning streamliner has fresh styling that begins deep inside the car with a recessed floor which is the key to the "step-down" design: the exciting idea that opens up new opportunities for genuinely beautiful lines!

Yes, for years it has been widely known that the lower a car can be built, the more beautiful it will be, the better it will ride and handle.

But whenever men have sought to create the ideal in low-built motor cars, without lowering the interior floor, they've had to keep top lines high to preserve inside head room, or reduce inside roominess to get top lines down—an unsatisfactory compromise in either case.

And even with compromises, no car has ever matched the glamorously low silhouette Hudson brings you today!

This is because Hudson—and Hudson alone—has a recessed floor in an exclusive, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame* which makes it possible to build the lowest car on the highway—just five feet from ground to top—but with more head room than in any mass-produced car built today!

*No smiling, more than skin-deep beauty of the New Hudson is the natural result of this basic "step-down" construction, which is so right it frees the designer of the need for makeshifts in styling.

We cordially invite you to see and drive the New Hudson. You'll quickly sense that this car is so far ahead it's a protected investment in motor car value.

*Trade mark and patents pending.

The many advantages in Hudson's "step-down" design are explained in a booklet available at all Hudson dealers.

Social Affairs

RELATIVES and close friends were guests when Mr and Mrs John P Courtright of 205 South Greenwood street entertained at dinner Saturday evening in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary. The celebrants received their guests at Hotel Harding and for the dinner the table appointments were in silver and white. Joining them for the occasion were their son, John Jr., a student at Ohio Wesleyan university, and their daughter Sara Outcalt, Mt. Gilead. Others present were Mr and Mrs Henry R. Hoyer, Dr. Hunt G Beatty and Owen P Lamb of Columbus, Mr and Mrs Seymour Miller and Mr and Mrs Paul J Cromley of Ashley. Mr and Mrs G H Gorberson, Mr and Mrs Avery C Gaberson and Mr and Mrs James A. Williams of Cleveland, and Mr and Mrs. William Hopple of Tiffin.

MR. AND MRS. MILES MESSENGER of 488 North Greenwood street are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Mary Ellen, to Paul Barnhouse, son of Mrs. Pauline Barnhouse of 150 Bruce avenue which will take place Sunday, Dec. 26. The ceremony will be read at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. R. W. Faulkner in Calvary Evangelical United Brethren church. A reception at Columbian hall will follow the ceremony. Miss Messenger is employed in the bookkeeping department of the National City bank and her fiance - a student at Northwestern university.

MEMBERS of Captain William Hendricks chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution will hold their December meeting Thursday evening at Greenwood Inn. The program topic will be "Conservation" and the speaker will be O. H. Neuveyer of Prospect game protector. Hostesses will be Mrs Stuart Mills, Mrs Daniel LeMarche, Misses Helen Kramer, Caryl Leeka, Ruth Gorham and Maud Graham. The meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs Lester L. Dickey was welcomed as a new member of the Marion Senior circle of the Child Conservation league Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs Ralph Wright on Pearl street.

A Christmas project, providing for a needy child for Christmas, was organized. Reports from the state convention in Youngstown in October were given by Mrs Blanche Hurley, Mrs Stella Imbody and Mrs Esther Jacobs.

For the program, a panel discussion on 'Creative Leisure' was held, with Mrs Jacobs as moderator and Mrs Ilo Tobin, Mrs Evelyn Smith, Mrs Betty Herr and Mrs Maude Scheib taking part. Discussion covered pre-school children, through adolescence, and grandchildren. A question period followed. At the next meeting a Christmas program and exchange will be featured at the home of Mrs. Mary Huber Dec 16. Assistant hostess was Mrs Ora Dell Hedges.

Mrs Greer Chapman was hostess for a meeting of the Child Research club Thursday evening at her home on Edgewood drive. For roll call the members told of their most embarrassing moment. Judge Edward J. Ruzzo of the probate and juvenile courts, talked on juvenile delinquency. Guests were Mrs John A. Wells and Mrs. Jack Griffith. Plans were made for a Christmas party Dec. 14 at the home of Mrs Stephen Kuhner on South high street.

Mrs Cora Bill was hostess to members of the N O C club Thursday evening at her home at 389 Lee street. Cootie was played with high honors going to Mrs Eileen Alexander and low to Mrs Skinner. A penny box award was won by Mrs Thelma Skinner. At the next meeting Dec 16 with Mrs Eileen Alexander of 345 Monroe street secret sisters will be revealed in a gift exchange.

Mrs William Miller was awarded high score prize. Mrs. Florence Henry second award and Mrs. Evelyn Wick, consolation award, at a meeting of the Waldo M.N.Y. Bridge club Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Victor Wick. Plans were made for a Christmas gift exchange to be held at the next meeting, Dec. 15, at the home of Mrs. Evelyn Wick. The hostess was assisted in serving refreshments by Mrs Darrell Denman.

"MISS SANTA CLAUS". Placing the first gifts for needy children under a tree in a New York City store, nine-year-old Happy Malone, "Miss Santa Claus" starts the Christmas Tree Caravan on its way. More than 500 such trees have been installed in stores all over the nation. Commissioner Donald McMillan, representing the Salvation Army, which will distribute the presents, is pictured with the youngster.

Holiday Dance Held by Club At Columbian Hall

A LARGE lighted Christmas tree green and red streamers with silver tinsel, greenery and other Yuletide motifs decorated Columbian hall for the holiday formal dance held by 'Club 75' Saturday night at Columbian hall. Fifty-five couples danced to a program played by Glenn Johnson and his orchestra.

Out-of-town guests included Mr and Mrs Charles Kleen of Delaware, Mr. and Mrs Charles McCally of Warren, Mr and Mrs Gerald Smart of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs D C Esterly of Cleveland.

Serving on the host and hostess committee were Mr and Mrs Robert McCombs, Mr and Mrs Robert Conley, Mr and Mrs James Bull, Mr and Mrs Tim Kelly, Mr and Mrs Howard Smith and Mr and Mrs H J Felber. A business session including the election of officers will be held at the next dance Jan. 1.

Weddings

Miss Waneta Elizabeth Cochran, daughter of Mrs H S Kirkpatrick of Delaware, became the bride of Frank Herbert Ruth in a double ring ceremony read Sunday, Nov. 28, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon in the Little White Church at Edison by Rev. Orland Ruby. The bridegroom is the son of Mr and Mrs John E Ruth of near Claridon.

A large basket of yellow and white chrysanthemums, huckleberry foliage, palms and lighted candles in four seven branch candelabra decorated the altar.

Preceding the ceremony, a program of nuptial music was presented by Mrs. John Williams, organist and Charles Ruth, brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Rita Walker, vocalists. Mr Ruth sang "O Promise Me" and "Because," and during the ceremony, as the couple knelt at the altar, Miss Walker sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, Dean, was attired in a gown of ivory satin fashioned with a fitted bodice, a wide yoke of sheer net, and long sleeves which ended in points over the hands. The skirt fell into a train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was caught to a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones, and her only jewelry was a rhinestone choker. She carried a shower bouquet of white rosebuds and mum petals.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was her sister, Joan, who wore a heaven blue satin gown fashioned with a fitted bodice with an off the shoulder effect, puffed sleeves and a hoop skirt with matching mitts and halo. Her bouquet was of yellow and rust chrysanthemums.

John Ruth served as best man for his brother, and usherettes were Barbara and Judy Reed. They wore gowns of white and sky blue taffeta, respectively, with corsages of yellow pompons.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Kirkpatrick chose a gray wool sharkskin suit with green accessories. Mrs. Ruth was attired in a rose wool suit dress. Each wore a corsage of yellow pompons.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church social rooms. The bride's table held a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Tall white tapers completed the decorations. Serving were Mrs. John Ruth, Mrs. Wesley Reed and Mrs. Dean Cochran. When the couple left on a wedding trip, Mrs. Ruth was wearing a royal blue corduroy ensemble with black accessories and the rosebud corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Ruth is a graduate of Willis High school in Delaware and the Marion School of Cosmetology. She has been employed at the Jan Ree Beauty shop in Edison. Mr. Ruth served three years with the U. S. Navy and has been engaged in farming with his father.

The couple will make their home with the bridegroom's parents.

Hospital Board Busy Planning Holiday Dance

ONE of the busiest groups these days is the Woman's Board of the Marion City Hospital whose members are working on a round-the-clock schedule in preparation for their annual holiday dance to be held Tuesday night Dec 28.

This marks the twentieth year the board has sponsored this holiday event and the members have appropriately captioned the dance the "Anniversary Ball." They have gone all out to make the anniversary a memorable one by providing a spacious dance hall and a name band, and it goes without saying that nothing will be left undone by the members to make the occasion a festive one.

The dance will be held at the Hy-Way Rollarena and the patrons will dance to the romantic style of Russ Carlyle, new singing star. Dancing will be from 10 p m until 2 a m and dress will be semi-formal. Tickets for the dance will be $5 a couple, $2.50 for single admission.

Plans for the dance were furthered when the board met Wednesday at Greenwood Inn with Mrs Carl F LaMarche, Miss May Ella O'Brien and Miss Emma O'Brien as hostesses.

Mrs Robert E White and Mrs John A McNamara are general chairmen of the dance committee. Serving on the ticket committee are Miss Geraldine Hord and Miss Emma O'Brien, co-chairmen, Mrs Herbert Petrich, Mrs J P Courtright, Mrs Charles H Elliott, Mrs Philip Guthery, Mrs Robert LaMarche, Mrs Harold K Mouser, Mrs B Peterson, Mrs Paul Pocock, Mrs T E Sunnanstine, Mrs R T Lewis and Mrs J H. LINDA IRIS BROWN

3-YEAR-OLD TEXAS GIRL NAMED FOR POLIO POSTER

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Dec 6—Three-year-old Linda Iris Brown of San Antonio, Tex., will be the 1949 "March of Dimes" poster girl.

The blond, curly-haired girl, daughter of Mr and Mrs Leonard Brown Jr. was one of those stricken with infantile paralysis during the 1946 epidemic. Her home state this year was one of the epidemic areas.

Posters with her picture and urging Americans to contribute to the polio fund will be published from coast to coast.

Linda, although stricken with polio, has won back near-normal health, thanks to funds received from previous March of Dimes campaigns. Her condition still is improving.

Linda will be four years old Jan. 13, the day before the opening of the 1949 polio fund drive.

SAYS TEACHERS SOFT TOUCH FOR REDS

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Dec 6—Teachers are regarded by the house un-American activities committee as "the easiest touch" for Communists of all professional people.

Reds and fellow travelers, the committee says, have dug in as teachers in public, private and church schools to the point of being "a deadly danger."

The committee got out a pamphlet over the weekend on "100 things you should know about Communism and education." It is another in the question and answer series on Reds in such fields as in religion, labor and government.

The pamphlet says that:

1. An estimated 800 American Communists have been trained in the Lenin school in Moscow—the highest college of Communism—in spying, bomb-making, kidnaping, train wrecking, mutiny, civil war, sabotage, infiltration and factory wrecking.

2. "They serve as the high officers of a secret army now being drilled to overthrow our government." One committee member told a reporter there isn't any real 'army,' that that was just a descriptive way of putting it.

3. Communists run some schools of their own in this country. The committee lists 13 but it says only these four are open now:

School of Jewish studies and Jefferson School of Social Science, New York; California Labor School, San Francisco, and Seattle Pacific Northwest Labor School, Seattle.

4. Wallace youth groups are "tools of the Communist party."

5. Communism gained recruits through Henry A. Wallace's campaign for president. It made new contacts and "tapped fresh money." The "largest vote ever cast for Communism" in America was registered when Wallace polled more than 1,000,000 votes Nov. 2.

Conclusion: the committee says it tried to wreck the American school system if they can; they want to train children rather than teach them—train them to "obey, to love, and to hate."

PROGRESSIVE RESIGNS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, Dec 6—William R Gibbon today announced his resignation as chairman of the Franklin county Progressive party. Gibbon, retaining the vice chairmanship of the Progressive party of Ohio, said he would become business agent for the Akron local of the United Public Workers of America (CIO).

"THIS OUR FATHERS BOUGHT FOR US..."

★ Kipling was speaking of precious human freedom when he wrote, "This our fathers bought for us long and long ago."

But courage and valor are not solely the virtues of brave fighting men in combat. It took no less courage for men like Pasteur, Lister, Koch, and hosts of others to struggle for scientific truth against cries of heresy from the ignorant and the superstitious. Inspired by the example of these great men, your physician battles the same foes today. At his side is the pharmacist, always eager to carry the fight to the enemy.
